REPUBLICANS SQUEEZED OUT

Will Have no Representation in Next Election on State and County
Commissions.

NOR ON THE ELECTION BOARDS

Membership is Based on Vote in State
and Not on That of the County.

In getting more votes than the Republican party in Indiana the Bull Moosers will profit by "second party" possibilities in county, State and municipal affairs, according to State officials. Practically all of the election machinery at coming elections will be operated by the Democrats and Bull Moosers in Indiana, as it will in many other States.

The statutes, providing for the printing of the ballots for an election, definitely establish the order in which the first two parties' tickets shall appear on the ballot from left to right.
The Democratic ticket comes first and next the Republican.

In the appointment of the State board of election commissioners, however, as well as in the appointment of county boards, county election sheriffs and judges, the statutes provide that the appointments shall be made from "the two parties that cast the highest number of votes in the State at the last preceding election."

It makes no difference whether the Republicans carried a particular county or state, the officials declare.
The election machinery in that county will be apportioned to the Democrats and Bull Moosers because the appointments are based on the outcome of the state election.

There has been a mistaken impression here that the membership of the county election commission and the election boards is governed by the vote in the county, which would leave the Republican party represented in Rush county, but such is not the case.

The state board of election commissioners has the power to fix the status of the remaining tickets on the general ballot after the Democratic and Republican tickets are placed in the first two places. In that manner, it is said, the Bull Moosers, because one of their number will be appointed to the state board, may succeed in supplanting the Prohibition party in position on the ballot.
The Prohibition party has been in third place.

Many of the boards and commissions, whose members are appointive, either by the Governor or governing boards, provide for bipartisan or nonpartisan control. In such instances the law usually reads so that the appointing power may use his own judgement about selecting the parties from which the appointees are to be garnered.

The law that governs the appointment of jury commissioners says that the two men appointed shall be members of opposing political parties, so these appointments will still be within the discretion of the judge of the circuit court.

With reference to members of the board of review the law says two freeholders shall be appointed to serve in addition to the auditor, treasurer and assessor of the county.
It has long been the custom for the court to appoint a Democrat and a Republican to membership on the board of review. Whether or not this custom will continue is another matter that the judge of the court will have to determine.

WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Saturday.

PALMER TRIAL POSTPONED

Blind Tiger Case Will be Heard Wednesday.

The trial of Dave Palmer, charged with operating a "blind tiger," which was set for this afternoon, was postponed because Wallace Morgan, prosecutor, was out of the city. Mayor Black will probably hear the case next Wednesday afternoon. Palmer was arrested election day after the police found a keg of beer in his house and is charged with running a blind tiger. Palmer is out on $250 bond, furnished by Hyman Schatz.

AND CARY JACKSON IS STUNG AT THAT

Goes up to Pick Out Seat Day After Election But Finds Them.
All Taken.

HIS PLURALITY INCREASED

Cary Jackson of this city, joint senator-elect from Rush, Fayette and Hancock counties, went to Indianapolis yesterday to pick out a seat in the senate chamber in the State house. He thought he would be sly and be there early and get his choice of the good locations to be had in the room. Imagine his dismay when he found that most of the Democrats who were running for the State senate had gone to the chamber before the election and selected their seats!
All the choice ones were taken and he will have to be content with sitting in the rear and taking somebody else's word for what's going on up in front.

The returns from the one precinct in Hancock county increases Jackson's plurality over Duncan to 2732.
The vote in this precinct was Jackson, 78; Duncan 11 and Stoops, 53. This reduces Duncan's plurality over Stoops to 1254.

CARTMEL CASE SET DOWN

Second Damage Suit Against I & C.
Will be Heard Monday.

The case of Thomas Cartmel as administrator of the estate of his father, the late Samuel A. Cartmel, near Waldron, who was killed by a traction car in that town January 10, 1910, against the I & C. Traction Co., has been set for trial November 11, 1912, and a special venire of twelve has been ordered for jury service at the trial, says the Shelby Democrat.
The plaintiff's mother was killed in the same accident and he recently obtained a judgment against the company for $700 because of her death.

FILES SUIT TO COLLECT $80

A. J. Roth Brings Action Against
John A. Greenawalt of This City

Andrew J. Roth filed suit in the circuit court this afternoon against John S. Greenawalt to collect eighty dollars paid as surety. The plaintiff alleges that he went on a note for $75 of Greenawalt's. The money was loaned by the Farmers and Merchants Trust company of Connersville. He alleges that Greenawalt failed to pay the note and that he had to on June 14, 1912. He demands eighty dollars, which includes principle and interest.

WINTER STOCKS ON THE SHELVES

Rushville Merchants Are Preparing
To Care For Heavier Fall
Trade Than Ever.

DISPLAYS ARE ATTRACTIVE.

Stores Are Showing Nobby Line of Fall and Winter Goods
That Will Please.

One of the conclusive indications of the autumnal season is the display of the excellent stocks of fall and winter goods at the various stores in the city. The last of the shipments of these goods were received some time ago and are now on display for the convenience of the customers.
Several people have remarked that the display windows and store rooms were better decorated and more artistically arranged this fall than for many years.

The display windows are crowded with all kinds of attractive goods and the stores in every branch of business are equipped to supply almost any demand the customers might make. The people of Rushville have a right to feel proud of the stores, for they have much to do with the appearance of the business section of the city. The stores here are much better arranged than those in many cities of this size, and it is probably this fact that causes visitors to say "that Rushville is the livest and busiest city in eastern Indiana."

There is no need of any citizen of Rushville going out of this city to buy what he needs. In every line of business the stocks are complete and almost every want could be supplied by the home merchants. There is another advantage in trading in Rushville and that is, that the same quality of goods can be purchased here at less prices than in larger cities where rents are higher and operating expenses exceed those of the stores in Rushville.

The majority of the local merchants purchase their goods from the same wholesale houses that supply the city stores. Frequently the same goods are on display here that are sold in the city stores but the prices are considerably lower here than in other places.

Rushville is also situated so that it can supply a wider scope of surrounding territory. The people living in the vicinity of this city are becoming more and more aware of the fact that the stores here cannot be surpassed and as result considerable trade is coming to Rushville from surrounding towns, some of which are located in the adjoining counties.

The Rushville merchants are striving to give their customers the very best goods at the most reasonable prices. Everyday they are telling the public through their advertisements what they are offering, and the people could make no mistake in following the advertisements closely.

The merchants are expecting an unusually large trade this fall and winter and have made arrangements to supply a large number of customers.

MAYOR BLACK IS NEW ENTRANT

Chief Executive of City is Said to be Latest Contestant in Race For Postoffice.

2 OFFICES BECOME VACANT

Local Doctors Already Worrying
Finly Gray For Place on Pen-
sioner's Examining Board.

Mayor B. A. Black is said to be the latest entrant into the race for the postmatser's job in Rushville. It is understood that he has not been thought a contender for this place until the election has proved beyond any preadvanture of a doubt that the Democrats will have control over most any old office.

Local Democrats who had looked on the postoffice with covetous eyes when the prospects for a Democratic national victory began to loom up never even considered Mayor Black as a candidate for the job. He was elected mayor of Rushville on the Democratic ticket and they believed that he would be content with what he had.

Finly H. Gray, sixth district congressman-elect, will doubtless have a merry time dishing out the offices.
It is he who will have to settle on the man who shall run the postoffice. If he gets out of the muss without making any enemies he will probably will be more diplomatic than are most congressmen.

Although Finly has been sick in bed and was able to be out on the street yesterday for the first time for several days, he is already being beseiged by local Democrats who aspire to have a hand in the public treasury.

It is understood that some local doctors have already written the congressman for a place on the pen-sioner's examining board for the county. This is an appointive board filled by the congressman.
There are said to be several physicians who are hot on the trail of
Mr. Gray for the job even though Democratic victory is only three days old.

One doctor, it is said, plans to get the bulge on the other contestants for a place on the board and go to Con-nersville and see Finly as soon as he can get audience with the congressman. The pay of the members of the examining board is very small nevertheless there are Democrats who are only too willing to take it.

Two city positions will become au-tomatically vacant as a result of the election of Tuesday. O. C. Norris, Democratic member of the city, was elected representative from this county and A. R. Holden, a member of the city school board, was elected county auditor.

Both of these positions will be filled by the city council and they will both be Democrats who will succeed Democrats as the Democrats hold the balance of power on the city council.
Without Mr. Norris there are two Democrats and two Republicans, which will give the mayor the deciding vote.

There will not be much of O. C.
Norris' term as city councilman to fill out. He will take office in the next session of the Indiana legislature which convenes in January. There will be a city election the next fall and the present city council will retire from office in January, 1914.

COULDN'T BE WORSE.

Connersville News: "Look out for a stormy November" says an exchange in a headline over a mess of Hicks dope. Here is hoping that nothing worse will strike us than the "storm" of Tuesday. It will take four years to recover from that.

IS PASTORS ASSISTANT

Miss Edith Holden Fills New Position
in Local Church.

Miss Edith Holden has been appointed pastor's assistant to the Rev.
C. M. Yocum, pastor of the Main Street Christian church. This is a new position in Rushville as heretofore all ministers have attempted to attend to their varied duties as best they could. Miss Holden will relieve the pastor of much of the duty of calling on the members of his flock, and will do some clerical work. In reality she will be a social worker, and her work is expected to accomplish much good in many of the poorer homes in Rushville.

GRAY'S PLURALITY FOUND TO BE 8340

Franklin County And Lone Precinct
In Hancock County Included
Boosts Risk Into Second.

HAS PLURALITY OVER JENSEN

Revised figures on the sixth district congressional race between the three principal candidates reveal that Finly H. Gray of Connersville, the present incumbent, carried the district by a plurality of 8340 over the Republican candidate, William L. Risk of Newcastle. The official count from every precinct in the district shows in addition that Risk and not Gierluf Jensen of Shelbyville, the Bull Moose candidate, ran second. Risks plurality over Jensen was 81.

The lone precinct in Hancock county which was out yesterday gave Gray, 97; Risk, 13; and Jensen 51. The Franklin county vote which was not included yesterday, is responsible for boosting Risk into second place in the race and increasing Gray's plurality. The vote there was: Gray, 2305; Risk, 1005; Jensen, 481. Gray's plurality over Jensen was 8421.

ATTENDANCE ON INCREASE

More Children in School Last Year
Than Year Before.

During the school year of 1911-12
in Indiana there was an average daily attendance of almost eight thousand more children at the public schools than in the year preceeding and the figures do not include the returns from Clay county, which have not yet reached the office of Charles A.
Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction. John I. Hoffman, deputy of Mr. Greathouse, has compiled the totals from the other ninety-one counties, however, and they show that there was an average daily attendance of 423,330. In the school year of 1910-11 the average was 415,492.

MAY CHANGE LOCATION.

Shirley News: Cox & Cox, millers of Carthage, were in Shirley looking for a location for their flour mill, now located at Carthage. They interviewed several local business men and received considerable encouragement from them on a plan to bring a mill here. Several of the business men of Shirley have visited the mill at Carthage since then and are favorably impressed with the mill and the proposition made them by Messrs.
Cox & Cox.

RUSHVILLE TO BE IN LEAGUE

Dal Williams is Bringing to Close Negotiations For Sunday Ball Organization.

SIX TEAMS WANTED IN LEAGUE

May Represent Newcastle, Rushville,
Richmond, Connersville, Muncie and One Road Club.

Dal Williams, manager of the Maxwell baseball club, is now engaged in organizing a Sunday league for next season and is meeting with much success, says the Newcastle Courier.
Williams and B. C. Weadon, manager of the Indianapolis T. T.'s, have the matter in hand and are rapidly bringing their plans to a head. It is proposed to have the circuit include the cities of Muncie, Richmond, Newcastle, Connersville and Rushville, with the Indianapolis club as a traveling team. Baseball was prosperous in all of the cities except Connersville during the season that has just ended. However, it is believed that Connersville is now ripe for baseball and that the fans will give the game their loyal support. The enthusiasts there are ready to put a team in the field.

Rushville is anxious to get in the league. At Richmond Wednesday Manager Williams had a conference with the owners of the bast ball park there and they expressed a willingness to participate in the league. Richmond was in the K. I. O. organization last season and the experience was unsatisfactory.

Negotiations are also pending with Muncie and will be taken up for final settlement within a few days. The Muncie fans are anxious for league ball and with the building of the extension of the Honey Bee line will be put in close touch with the other towns in the proposed new circuit.

CAUSES SEVERAL CHANGES

One Property Sale Leads to Many
Other Changes.

The sale of Bert Trabue's property in North Morgan street to Thomas Sullivan has resulted in a number of sales and changes in residence. Mr.
Sullivan has sold his beautiful suburban home west of the city to Henry Heckman, who has been a tenant on Joe Cowing's farm for a number of years. Henry Halterman of near Moscow will move on to Mr.
Cowing's farm. Mr. and Mrs. Trabue are moving into the north one of the two new residences, recently erected by Mr. Trabue on the lot at the corner of Perkins and Eighth streets.

TO MEET AGAIN THURSDAY

County Board of Commissioners Held
a Short Session Yesterday.

The county commissioners held a short meeting yesterday to attend to matters pertaining to the Frank Mc-Corkle road. At the meeting they reappointed Jabez Smith custodian of the court house for the year beginning January 1, 1913 and ending December 1, 1913. The commissioners will meet again next Thursday for some extensive ditch and road business.

—Mrs. Harve Cowing and Mrs.
Charles Osman were visitors in Indianapolis today.

A miscellaneous shower was given last Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Moffatt, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Catt, who were recently married at New Castle. About thirty-two guests were present and spent a pleasant evening. Several pretty and useful gifts were received. Mrs. Catt was formerly Miss Welborn and is well known in this locality. A host of well wishers join in wishing the young couple a long and prosperous life together.

The Lillian M. N. Stevens W. C. T. U. met at the pleasant home of Mrs. Ida Byrket Wednesday, Oct. 30. The president, Mrs. Sarah Moffatt called the meeting to order, after singing "Alone with God." The devotions were conducted by Mrs. Edna Cheny. Twelve members responded to roll call with autumn poems. Mrs. Estella Elliott gave a report of the State convention, which was held at Kokomo. Mrs. Moffatt gave a good reading. Guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Cephas Edmundson, Mrs. Lukens, Mrs. Ella Moffatt and Miss Bessie Moffatt, Mrs. Myrta Small, Mrs. Fred Leonard, Mrs. Mary Longwell, Mrs. Will Webster, Misses Carrie Moffatt and Belva Webster—the latter four became members of the Union in the usual manner. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Floy Dawson on Nov. 27th. On our departure the hostess presented each one with a sack of popcorn and candy.

Rev. J. H. Miller of Mays and A. C. Kirkham attended a men's meeting at Dayton Wednesday.

Miss Edythe Davis entertained the young women's and young men's classes of the Center Sunday school at a Hallowe'en party at her home last Thursday night. The guests were invited to come masked as ghosts and they certainly presented a weird appearance draped in sheets and pillow cases. On arriving they were greeted by a red imp who lead the girls by a winding path to the bath room window where they were directed to climb a step ladder and trust to luck. The boys were conducted through the cellar window and 'tis said that one came near not getting through on account of size. After all had assembled and after passing some time in the dimly lighted rooms each one was lead up stairs where a witch and her attendants told them their doom. After hearing the future the guests unmasked and proceeded to spend the evening in playing charades and in music. Refreshments of pumpkin pie, cake and apples and delicious home-made candies were served. Miss Davis was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dill, Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis and Misses Mildred Davis and Dorothy Dill. All departed at a late hour thanking their hostess for a most pleasant evening.

WILSON TAKES ILLINOIS VOTE

That State Lifted From the Roosevelt Column.

TAFT VOTE ALSO IS REDUCED

Later Returns Take Wyoming From the President's Scant Proportion and Give It to His Democratic Opponent—Besides Having Overwhelming Majority in House, Democrats Now Seem Certain of Controlling Senate.

New York, Nov. 8.—Woodrow Wilson carried forty states and will have 442 electoral votes, according to fuller returns. This leaves Roosevelt second with five states and 77 electoral votes, while President Taft has but three with twelve votes to be cast for him. More complete returns took Illinois from Roosevelt and added its twenty-seven votes to the Wilson column, while dispatches from Cheyenne declare that Wilson has carried Wyoming by a small plurality, which takes three out of the previous Taft column. This apparently final line-up gives Idaho, Utah and Vermont to Taft and Michigan, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Washington to Roosevelt, Wilson taking the remainder of the states.

The Democrats appear reasonably certain of controlling the United States senate, although it will be very close. The Republicans had a majority of seven in the present session, with three vacancies. While the Democrats have held their own in their states, the indications are that they have taken two seats away from the Republicans in Colorado, one in Delaware, one in New Jersey, one in Kansas, and one in Montana. They may win one in Nevada, while Democrats believe there are chances in Oregon, Tennessee, Iowa and South Dakota. In Illinois the United States senator will have to be elected by a coalition, as the Progressives and three Socialist members of the lower house will hold the balance between the two parties.

Later returns have developed the defeat of three very well known Republican congressmen, Joseph G. Cannon, William B. McKinley and Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Colonel Roosevelt, but a Taft supporter.

With fewer than 300 districts to hear from in Illinois, Wilson led by 7,000, and the Democratic leaders anticipate 10,000 on complete returns. Dunne, the successful Democratic candidate for governor, will have 100,000 at least. Of the twenty-seven congressmen from Illinois, eighteen will be Democratic, three Progressive and six Republican. It is likely that the present Illinois legislature will claim the right of electing a successor to Lorimer, and efforts are being made to get all factions to agree on some Republican, preferably Lawrence Y. Sherman, who defeated Shelby M. Culom in the preferential primaries.

In California, with 200 districts to be heard from, Wilson's plurality was 1,000, but it was expected to increase to between 3,000 and 4,000. In Kansas revised returns give the state to Wilson by about 12,000, while Governor Stubbs for the United States senate has been defeated by Thompson Democrat, by the same figures. A further development was that the New Hampshire legislature will be Republican on joint ballot.

The next Delaware legislature will have twenty Democrats and twenty-three Republicans. In Massachusetts the Democrats have added the secretary of state to their winning list, the post being won by Frank J. Donoghue, a young newspaper man. The legislature will be Republican on joint ballot on 54 plurality.

There are indications that Nebraska will send a Republican senator to Washington. Safe returns indicate the success of Norris. The legislature will be Republican on joint ballot, but nothing has been received to change the result of the national election or of the victory of Moorehead, Democrat, for governor.

Ernest Lister, Democrat, is probably elected governor of Washington, but complete count may be necessary to decide.

POLITICAL MEDLEY

The Three Leading Parties All Able to Score in Michigan.

Detroit, Nov. 8.—The unofficial count shows the election of Ferris, Democrat, as governor of Michigan by a plurality of 10,000. Roosevelt carried the state by 23,000. The Republicans have elected eight congressmen, the Democrats two, and the Progressives two. Woman suffrage carried by about 7,000 majority. It is probable that a Progressive will occupy the lieutenant governor's chair. The state officers are still in doubt, but the Democrats will probably be well represented among them. The state legislature will probably have a scant Republican majority on joint ballot, which will return William Alden Smith to the senate.

Uncle Joe Finally Beaten.

Danville, Ill., Nov. 8.—Joseph G. Cannon, for nearly forty years Republican congressman from the Eighteenth Illinois congressional district, has been defeated by Frank T. O'Hair, a young attorney of Paris. Cannon was defeated by about 1,000 votes.

Frankly, we'd hate to be in the "near shoe" business! We'd hate to carry lines of shoes that sell only because the price is small. #### A Famous Widow.

One of the most famous widows of antiquity was Agrippina, the widow of Germanicus. During the lifetime of her husband she attended him in all his campaigns and shared his dangers. Suspecting that her husband had been poisoned, she had his presumed murderer assassinated and was herself soon after treated with such indignity by Tiberius that she was driven to despair and starved herself to death.

World's Temperance Sunday. Hosea vii.

Golden Text—Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning that they may follow strong drink, that tarry late into the night till wine in-dame them! Isa. v:11.

(1.) Verses 1-2—Why cannot a nation nor an individual be mortally healed as long as wrongdoing is continued?

(2.) If a government is corrupt and the teachers of the nation false to their trust what will be the condition of the people?

(3.) Would men in authority act corruptly if they actually realized that God took notice of their every wicked way?

(4.) What effect does continued wrongdoing have upon the judgment of the sinner, upon his own acts?

(5.) Verse 3—How fares the nation when the king, the president, the governor, the judge or others in high authority have been subtly blinded by "graft" or influenced by wine?

(6.) Verse 4—When lust and anger burn in a man until his whole life is "leavened" what is the influence of such a life and what will be the man's future?

(7.) Verse 5—What is the difference in the effect of "wine," upon the "king" and upon the plebeian?

(8.) What is the general effect of drinking wine at banquets and other similar functions?

(9.) At what stage in wine drinking does an ordinarily decent man join "his hand with the scorners?"

(10.) Verse 6—After an all night carousal how does a man feel in the morning?

(11.) When men "lie in wait" to do some devilish thing and drink while they wait what effect does the drink have upon them?

(12.) Verse 7—When men are "hot" with wine is it ever a burning desire to do good? Give your reasons. (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(13.) When we find men "hot" with rebellion against good judges and good government, to which class do they generally belong, total abstainers or drinkers? Why?

(14.) In these days how many good, God fearing men use wine as a beverage?

(15.) Verse 8—When professed Christians consort with the wicked what will be the inevitable result, and why?

(16.) What kind of man is he who compares with "a cake not turned," that is burned on one side and half raw on the other?

(17.) Verses 9-10—What proportion of drinkers are so fuddled that they are unconscious of loss and cannot see danger?

(18.) When men or women are besotted with pride what hope is there for them?

(19.) Verses 11-13—What were the results when God's ancient people relied upon other nations for help when God had promised them all the help they needed?

(20.) Verses 14-16—How is it that when men have brought great suffering upon themselves by sin they still insist upon rebelling against God?

Lesson for Sunday, Nov. 17, 1912. The Great Question. Mark viii:27-ix:1.

Forgery in Ancient Greece.

Dactyl is Greek for finger, and from this the word dactylography, to apply to a knowledge of finger rings, has been accepted, though evidently a misfit. Rings as signets hark back to ancient Egypt, from which country they probably came to Greece. Solon, the Greek lawgiver, who died 558 years before the Christian era, enacted a law that no engraver or cutter of signet rings should keep by him the impression of any ring he had cut. As these rings were used to sign documents of various kinds, this law was intended to prevent fraud and forgery.

Humble Pie.

There is a queer twist of language in the phrase "to eat humble pie." The word "humble" is a corrupted form of the original "numble," which is an inedible part of the carcass of a deer and would make very poor pie. The words "humble pie" have the same original meaning as "to eat crow," a phrase common in political life. There is an enforced humility in this process, and the change from "numble" to "humble" introduced a thought which harmonized with the idea sought to be expressed. The last form of the phrase has entirely supplanted the original.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 10.

WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.

LESSON TEXT—Hosea 7. GOLDEN TEXT—"Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that tarry late into the night, till wine inflame them."—Isaiah 5:11.

We turn aside today from studying the life of Christ to consider one of the things that caused the downfall of Ephraim, that is the northern kingdom, and also of Israel, i. e., those who composed the southern kingdom. The chief counterfeit of the Holy Spirit employed by Satan is the inspiration and the intoxication produced in the use of liquors, and we do well to pause and consider the works of him whom Jesus came to destroy. (Heb. 2:14).

The lesson naturally divides itself into two divisions, vv. 1-7 and vv. 8-16. This entire section really begins in chapter six verse four and contains the response of Jehovah to the cry of the remnant of Israel and of Ephraim in the last days. In the first half we see the iniquity of Ephraim and Israel "discovered," i. e., revealed, and in the second section there is discovered or revealed to us God's wrath against them for their hypocrisy.

I. God declares that it was his desire to heal them both, (v. 1). It is not God's will that any should perish.

But while Jehovah would have healed them they would not be healed, (cf. Matt. 23:37 and Luke 13:34), and hence it is that his love serves to reveal their wickedness. Dr. Torrey points out eight charges brought against the common people "Ephraim" and the court and city "Samaria," for this evil attacks both alike.

Never Hidden From God.

(1) "Falsehood" (v. 1). Nothing is more common among the evils of intemperance than falsehood; as we have suggested it is the Devil's false imitation of true inspiration. (2) "A thief comes in." Intemperance steals not only a man's money but his reputation, love for his family, in fact any and everything a sober man will hold dear. (3) "They consider not in their hearts." Like Rip Van Winkle, men say "this last doesn't count," forgetting that it does count and that God remember all of their wickedness. A violation of his law will receive punishment in due season. America is paying the price of a manifold increase in taxation, in murder, in imbecility, in divorce and suicide, the overwhelming portion of which can be traced to intemperance. God is remembering all our wickedness and verily a troop of robbers are stripping us (v. 1).

We oftentimes hide our evil deeds from man but never from God, and a man's sins will find him out (Psalm 9:16). These people made the king glad (v. 3), i. e., the king delighted in this wickedness. Let us not forget that righteousness exalteth a nation and sin is a reproach to any people. (4) "They are all adulterers," (v. 4). Of course in this connection we know there was a remnant of true followers, but the prevailing villainy was such as to call forth this terrific indictment. We need to remember that the connection between the liquor traffic and white slavery is so close as to defy separation.

"The Great Destroyer."

A liquor drinker is almost invariably a scoundrel. He scorns the power of liquor over himself, its effect upon the nation. "Sum up the economic loss of efficiency the cost of crime, pauperism, and insanity, and we have an economic burden of more than half of the wealth produced by this nation." (See Congressman H. R. Hobson's, "The Great Destroyer"). (6) "They have made ready their heart like an oven while they lie in wait," (vv. 6, 7, referring undoubtedly to the heat of anger and passion as well as of lust. (7) "They have devoured their judges" (v. 7). One has but to review the pages of history to appreciate the overthrow of priest, peasant and potentate alike. (8) "There is none that calleth upon me" (v. 7). The turning aside from God was noted at the outset, here again we see that the neglect and forgetfulness of God is the true source of all of man's sinning.

II. God intended Israel, and intends us, to be separate people. The prophet sets before us the result of this refusal upon Ephraim. A cake not turned is a cake half baked, one half burned. This metaphor has many applications. Our social life, our political life, our spiritual life is too often one that is half turned, one-half burned to a crisp and the other half raw.

Lay emphasis upon the Golden Text and the general facts of the temperance question. Alcohol is injurious to all kinds of life, there is little, if any, necessity for its use in medicine. Usually it is a positive hindrance. The story of "Old Born Drunk" in Begbe's "Twice Born Men," can be told with profit, a man who returned to Jehovah and found in the power of the blood of his son healing for his sickness. Lay strong emphasis upon pledge signing, for prevention is stronger than cure. Also, unlike the old Romans, our belly should not be our God.

CABINET DOPESTERS GIVEN NO COMFORT

President-Elect Sits Down On All Idle Gossip.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 8.—When the president-elect told the newspaper correspondents that he was perfectly capable of selecting his own family of departmental advisers and intended to do so, those who have been making cabinets for President-elect Wilson were jolted.

"Such speculations," he said, referring to the list of cabinet officials that had been prepared in every town where the wisecracks could get the ear of a reporter, "are perfectly fruitless. I mean to keep my mind entirely open with regard to appointments of the first consequence.

"It will be perfectly useless to resort to me for corroboration of any report, because I shall have absolutely nothing to announce. No announcement will have the least authority which is not made over my signature. These are matters which must be determined by very deliberate counsel, and not by gossip."

FOR THE LAST TIME

These Pension Agencies Will Now Go Out of Business.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Six of the government's pension agencies, at Indianapolis, Louisville, Knoxville, New York, Philadelphia and Topeka, are paying pensions for the last time. Their discontinuance was directed in the pension appropriation bill of the last congress. The remaining twelve agencies will cease payments by January. Thereafter the pension office in Washington will make all payments. Each of the pension agents will go out of office, together with a large clerical force.

The Wonder of It.

The Republican party is to be congratulated on the showing that it made in the election of Tuesday. The Republican party had to overcome almost impossible odds, and it battled bravely against them.

The Republican party will rise again. It has been assailed both from within and without before and it has always emerged from the struggle triumphant. In 1892 the same old prediction was made concerning the party but it came back in 1894 from the slough of despondency, and it has been victorious up until this year when it was attacked by an ungrateful man whose political career had been made within the ranks of the Republican party and by the preferment of the party.

It is little wonder that the Republican party was overcome. It is to be wondered that it even survives. The Republican party had to combat the marvelous personality of Theodore Roosevelt who still has the power to lead men in spite of the revelations that have been made concerning his machinations of men of affluence and wealth.

This year the Republican party had to face a triumphant Democracy. The Democratic party was never any more certain of victory than it was with the Republican party torn by dissension, created largely by Theodore Roosevelt. That was one of the elements that forecast the defeat of the party of Lincoln and McKinley.

The other element was Theodore Roosevelt who commanded the support of five millionaires who were willing to go to any extent and spend any amount of money to defeat William Howard Taft because of his administration acts against the interests in which they were interested.

Just as much as Theodore Roosevelt's party had a superabundance of funds, that much less did the Republican party lack funds with which to carry on the political battle. Here in Indiana the State committee was hampered and restrained because of the lack of money. Many campaign orators in this state paid their own expenses while out on stumping expeditions. The State committee did not have funds enough to put out literature. The campaign was discouraging from the very outset.

While on the other hand Theodore Roosevelt had an unlimited stream of money flowing into his campaign. The senate committee's investigation brought to light the fact that Bill Flinn, the Pittsburg boss; Dan R. Hanna, steel trust stock owner who was fined $60,000 by President Taft for rebating; Frank A. Munsey, owner of many publications who was incensed because of the order of Taft's postmaster general making it necessary for him to pay more to have his magazines hauled; George W. Perkins, who organized the harvester trust against which a suit to dissolve was brought by the Taft administration; Medil McCormick, owner of steel trust stock, all contributed more than $700,000 to Roosevelt's campaign.

Their fight on Taft was inspired by his acts against them for the benefit of the people and in enforcing the law. They chose Theodore Roosevelt to beat him and Roosevelt succeeded, even though he stirred the people of the United States by arousing their envy and their passions. He was ably assisted by our own Albert J. Beveridge.

But the Republican party is greater than Theodore Roosevelt. It was greater than Abraham Lincoln, as he said, and none will dare compare Roosevelt with Lincoln as a man, even though Roosevelt himself has had the temerity to do so.

The next four years will show that the Republican party will survive. There are too many really great men left in the Republican party for its rank and file to despair. The loss of Theodore Roosevelt, since he has shown his true character, will do the Republican party more good than harm.

Let the country have a sober second thought.

Enormity of the Crime.

People generally have never seemed to realize the enormity of the ingratitude of Theodore Roosevelt. The Republican party was good enough for him for thirty years. He left it at a time when the party is not only less corrupt, when it is more responsive to public opinion, than at any other period during these three decades.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1882 when he wanted to go to the assembly, although at the election that fall the people of New York repudiated it by a majority of 200,000.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1884 when the tens of thousands of honest, independent Republicans refused to support a tainted candidate like James G. Blaine. Mr. Roosevelt was not among them.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1886 when he accepted a nomination for mayor of New York from the bosses and corrupt corporations to defeat Henry George.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1889 when he wanted to be a civil service commissioner, although the chairman of its national committee was Mathew Stanley Quay.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1897 when he wanted to be assistant secretary of the navy, and obtained that office by the favor of Hanna, Platt and Quay.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1898 when he wanted to be Governor of New York and was willing to help

Sam Sanderson Says:

That it will not take the recall for the Republicans to get back in four years.

save Platt's corrupt machine in return for the nomination.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1900, when Platt and Quay nominated him for Vice-President.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1904 when the leaders interposed no objection to his nominating himself for President.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1908 when it meekly permitted him to foist William Howard Taft upon the country as a proxy.

The Republican party would have been good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 if it had nominated him for a third term, and Mr. Roosevelt would have welcomed the support of every man and every interest which supported Mr. Taft.

A new party was necessary not because the Republican party is hopelessly corrupt or hopelessly reactionary but because the Republican party refused to nominate ME. That is the crime of crimes. Because of that iniquity the Republican party must be destroyed and the pity of it is Roosevelt believes he has done it.

A defeated candidate for president may feel a certain degree of sorrow, but it never approaches the anguish and bitter humiliation experienced by a defeated candidate for member of the Legislature.

An unusual number of party workers and stump speakers lose their votes this year through a failure to register. Comments on the "crisis," the "emergency" and "Armageddon" are all superfluous.

Editorialettes.

Finly gray was sick in bed when he was elected. What would his plurality have been if he had been well?

"None of these matters (meaning who is to get the plums) have been seriously considered by the party workers," says the official Democratic county organ, "and will probably not be known until the appointments are made." We would like to put that down as the best joke since the campaign closed.

They are busy tongues that engage in idle gossip, no matter how unreasonable it may seem.

In nine weeks, Gov. Johnson, the Bull Moose candidate for vice president, made five hundred speeches, we read in the Big Prints. This number, of course, does not include the one he did not make in Indiana.

"The G. O. P. was Bull Moosed," says the Indianapolis Sun. This is a highbrow way of saying the G. O. P. was stabbed in the back.

Uncle Sam has placed a ban on New England Christmas trees for fear a parasite with which they are infected will be transferred to other parts of the country. Will Santa Clause stand for this?

The editor of the Morristown Sun has decided "Wilson got his election honestly," we'll call it square at that and let the count of electoral votes go on uninterrupted.

Few if any novelists have ever presented a heroine with gold teeth, especially in front. Perhaps the synthetic porcelain talked about by dentists will be more precarious than gold to poets and writers of fiction.

The Richmond newspapers marvel at the wonderful showing of the Socialists in Wayne county. Isn't it strange?

Comments on Election

(Seymour Republican.)

The Republicans accept the verdict and await the return swing of the pendulum.

(Newcastle Courier.)

The Republican party has gone down in defeat, horse, foot and dragon. Equipment, arms and baggage have been captured by the enemy. All, save honor, seems to be gone. Nevertheless and notwithstanding, the party has not surrendered; it will bide its time.

In Bartholomew county, while the democrats elect every candidate they have no just cause for exultation. Their vote for president and on down through the other offices is less than it was two years ago or four years ago. They won simply because they stayed together while two parties and two sets of candidates were made out of the original Republican party. The result was inevitable. You can't take a party with say 3,000 votes in a given district and split it into two parts more or less of equal proportions and expect to win with either faction of it against a third party that retains approximately its original strength of say 3,000 votes.

It is gratifying to note that Colonel Roosevelt says that he accepts the result with the "utmost good humor." There were some who appeared to fear another "bolt" with the Colonel setting up a "little white house" of his own on Sagamore Hill.

(Fort Wayne News.)

Colonel Roosevelt's first declaration upon the receipt of the election returns was a joyous exhort to the effect that he had annihilated the Republican party—the party that had kept him almost continuously in office for twenty-five years and which denied him further consideration only when he demanded that which Washington declined and which Grant could not get. However, there are two views as to the "annihilation of the Republican party," and Colonel Roosevelt will ascertain this fact to his sorrow in his future activity in the field of politics. The Republican party stands defeated and humiliated today, it is true, but it is still greater by far than the ambitions of any one man or any set of self-seekers.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

Responsibility for the defeat of the Republican party Tuesday rests primarily and principally upon Theodore Roosevelt. When it refused to nominate him for a third term, he turned upon it in a perfidious and revengeful spirit, resolved to prevent its success as a penalty for not making him its candidate. In all the history of American politics, there is no parallel for this case of amazing egotism and flagrant ingratitude, and certainly no true Republican can ever forget or condone it.

The next Indiana legislature is pledged to practically nothing, due to the extremely weak platform adopted in the last Democratic state convention. That platform was apparently constructed by reactionary gentlemen who hold that party pledges are of no practical use. It was evidently written in the belief that a platform is merely a form and not a contract. While election results may lead members of the resolutions committee in that convention to conclude that they were right in their assumption the situation leaves the people puzzled and doubting.

(Muncie Press.)

The Republican party will live. It has been defeated, defeated overwhelmingly, as it was 1892, but it will rise again, as it did two years after the disaster of twenty years ago.

til the last moment. This "tremendous groundswell" landed only a dozen representatives of the party in congress. The greenbackers and populists had more.

The Republican party will live. The Bull Moose faction will die. It was projected by disappointed, ambitious, vengeful leaders for the purpose of punishing the Republican party because of its failure to continue them in office and in power. The Republican party has been punished, but it takes the punishment cheerfully, proud of its record in having relegated these former leaders to private life. There isn't a Republican who does not rejoice that Woodrow Wilson, and not Theodore Roosevelt, is to be the next president of the United States. The people of this country can stand whatever industrial disturbance may come from a change in the tariff system, but they could never recover from the effect of an overthrow of the third-term tradition, the overthrow of representative government and the return to power of the would be dictator whose trustbucked campaign represented a privateering expedition of industrial pirates whose criminal imposition upon the American people had been interrupted by a president who had the old-fashioned idea that his oath of office meant what it said.

High Standards

One reason why this bank has become a large factor in the important financial and commercial affairs of Rushville is that

It has always maintained a high standard of ideals.

It has confined its business to strictly legitimate channels, and has always sought stability before profit.

It has won the confidence of banks and business men.

It welcomes accounts with business men and individuals who recognize the value of high standards in business.

SOCIETY NEWS

The ladies of the A. O. H. will give a dance Wednesday evening of next week in the Modern Woodmen hall.

The Embroidery club will be entertained by Mrs. Revilo Ferguson at her home in West Third street Saturday afternoon.

All the ladies of the Social club are asked to meet at the Social club rooms Monday evening at seven o'clock.

Invitations have been issued to the marriage of Mayme L., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Russell, of Lewisville, to Elbert G. Jackson, of Knightstown, at the home of the bride's parents, November 20.

A call meeting of the Tri Kappa sorority was held at the home of Miss Henrietta Coleman yesterday afternoon. Mrs. J. E. P. Holland of Bloomington, one of the founders of Tri Kappa and now an honorary officer in the sorority, was a guest at the meeting.

Invitations have been received here for the wedding of Miss Claudia Armstrong of Eaton, Ind., and Elbert Lathrop of Washington, D. C., which will take place at Eaton Tuesday, November 26. Miss Armstrong is well known here. She was one of the bridesmaids at the wedding of Miss Mary Amos and Lawrence Root. Miss Armstrong and Mrs. Root was members of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority in DePauw university together. The couple will be at home in Washington, D. C. after Tuesday, January 7.

CLERKS ENTITLED TO FEE

Attorney General Holds They May Collect For Doctor's License.

Attorney-General Homan has given an opinion to Dr. W. T. Gott, secretary of the state board of medical registration and examination, in which he holds that county clerks are entitled to collect only 50 cents in fees for the issuance of a county license to a physician. Under the clerk's fee and salary law of 1909 the charge allowed was $1.50, but the "sister act" to the clerk's fee and salary law, known as the sheriff's act, has been declared void and the state official held therefore, that the clerk's act is void, though it never has been passed on by courts.

Indianapolis Musician Who is Well Known Here Goes to Kokomo Public Schools.

MRS. ECKERT HAS SONG HERE

Mr. and Mrs. George Raymond Eckert, of Indianapolis, both well known in this city, will remove to Kokomo next week. Mr. Eckert having been appointed supervisor of music in the public schools of Kokomo. The announcement of the appointment has not been made public, although Mr. Eckert began work in Kokomo October 28. Mr. Eckert has been a teacher of the piano in Indianapolis for sixteen years. He studied under the late Clarence Forsythe and Walter Strunkle in the old Metropolitan School of Music.

Mrs. Eckert has sung for many years in church choirs, among them being the Tabernacle Presbyterian church, the Roberts Park M. E. church and the First Presbyterian church of Indianapolis. She resigned her position with the last named church choir to devote herself to concert singing.

FINE BUILDING HAS NEW MEANING NOW

Covetous Longing, in Eyes of Connersville Democrats When They Glance at Postoffice.

SOME PATRIOTS MENTIONED

The elegant new government building, at Eight and Central, means more to certain local Democrats since Tuesday night than it ever did before, says the Connersville News. There is a covetous longing now in the eyes of some as they glance about the structure as if they would like to tarry there through business hours for a third term of years always considering, of course, the snug salary that goes with the job.

A number of patriots have been mentioned as suitable timber for the next postmaster under Wilson and as their names are being bandied around no harm will come of mentioning them. Heading the list, of course, is Billy Merrell, claimed by some as the "brains of the party" locally. Billy is rated a bit of a "boss," however, by some of his members but he can point to what happened Tuesday as showing that everything worked out fine. But for real "get there" work Simon Doenges is regarded by many Democrats as the boy deserving the prize. These two are the leaders and their claims size up so well that a clash might come if both pressed their claims too hard so some are considering a bunch of dark horses, one of whom might be trotted in if necessary in the interest of peace and harmony.

Bull Moosers Do no Damage in Democratic Franklin.

The usual Democratic majority in Franklin county was undisturbed by the political upheaval elsewhere. At the Progressive and Republican votes together did not come within several hundred of equalling the Democratic vote the "split" was but an incident there. Ralston had the highest vote 2,334, leading Wilson by 28. Gray had but one less than Wilson. Taft got 929 votes and Durbin 866 Roosevelt's vote was 630 and Beveridge's, 655. Risk got 1005 and Jensen 481, running 149 behind Roosevelt. Foster got 1143 votes. Frank S. Masters, Republican, for sheriff was at the top of the Republican side, having 1238 votes. But he was still short 800.

AMUSEMENTS

The Princess will show a Lubin drama for the first picture tonight. It is entitled "For the Love of a Girl" and is said to tell a beautiful story. "The Hermit" is the title of the other picture, an Essanay comedy-drama.

Campbell Brothers, acrobats and contortionists, will again feature the bill at the Palace tonight. Campbell Brothers pleased large audiences last night with their act, which is high class in every way. Tonight the acrobats will feature the dislocation of the shoulder. The usual two pictures will be shown. The first is an Eclair comedy, "Oh! You Rag Time." The other is a Rex drama, "The Price of Extravagance."

Theater goes in and about Indianapolis will be delighted at the announcement that Miss Christie MacDonald, in her delightful operetta, "The Spring Maid," is to play another engagement at English's opera house, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 11, 12 and 13, with a matinee Wednesday. Miss MacDonald and her company were greeted with crowded houses when they played there last season, and her return will enable many who were unable to get seats last year to avail themselves of this opportunity to see an attraction which has equaled in popularity the famous "Merry Widow." Everyone, of course, is familiar with "Day Dreams," sung by Miss MacDonald, and the duet, "Two Little Love Bees" which she sings with her leading man. There is not only a lot of beautiful music in "The Spring Maid," but a great deal of comedy, a large and attractive chorus and an augmented orchestra of twenty-five pieces which adds to the enjoyment of the performance.

CHAPTER VII. An Old Perfume.

FOR nine years Stuart had refused to see or speak to Nan. He met Bivens as a matter of course, but always downtown during business hours or at one of his clubs. For the first year Nan had resented his attitude in angry pride and remained silent. And then she began to do a curious thing which had grown to be a part of his inmost life. For the past eight years she had written a brief daily diary recording her doings, thoughts and memories which she mailed to him every Sunday night. She asked no reply and he gave none. No names appeared in its story and no name was signed to the dainty sheets of paper which always bore the perfume of wild strawberries. But the man who read them in silence knew and understood.

The letter from her he held today was not an unsigned sheet of her diary. It was a direct, personal appeal, tender and beautiful in its sincerity. She begged him to forget the past because she needed his friendship and advice, and asked that he come to see her at once.

This letter was his first temptation to break the resolution by which he had lived for years.

He rose and paced the room with fury as he began to realize how desperate was his desire to go. "Have I fought all these years for nothing?" he cried.

The thing that drew him with all but resistless power was the deeper meaning between the lines. He knew that each day the incompleteness of her life had been borne in upon her with crushing force. And yet he felt, by an instinct deeper than reason, that the day he returned from his exile and touched her hand would mark the beginning of a tragedy for both.

In the past nine years he had thrown his life away only to find it in greater power. The first year which he had given of unselfish devotion to the service of the people had been a failure, but at the end of four years he was nominated for district attorney and was swept into office by a large majority. The enforcement of justice ceased to be a joke and became a living faith.

His work had stirred the state to a nobler and cleaner civic life. During the past year he had become one of the foremost figures in American Democracy—the best loved and the most hated and feared man in public life in New York. He asked no favors; he sought no preferment.

The work on which he had just entered was an investigation before an unusually intelligent grand jury of the

DO IT NOW

Rushville People Should Not Wait Until It Is Too Late.

The appalling death-rate from kidney disease is due largely to the fact that the little kidney troubles are usually neglected until they become serious. The slight symptoms often give place to chronic disorders and the sufferer may slip gradually into some serious form of kidney complaint.

If you suffer from backache, headaches, dizzy spells; if the kidney secretions are irregular of passage and unnatural in appearance, do not delay. Help the kidneys at once.

Doan's Kidney Pills are especially for kidney disorders—they act where others fail. Over one hundred thousand people have recommended them. Here's a case at home:

M. Conner, 1001 N. Harrison St., Rushville, Ind., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills with excellent results and am glad to recommend them. I had backache and pains through my loins and my kidneys were irregular in action. Hearing about Doan's Kidney Pills, I used them. They stopped the pains and regulated the kidney action."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

"The last tribunal will give you nothing."

"I had hoped you were tired of fighting a losing battle."

"I'll fight this battle to a finish and I'll win. If God lives I'll win—I'm so sure of it, my boy."

The doctor paused and his eyes flashed.

"I'm so sure of it that I'm not only going to refuse this bribe from Bivens, but my answer will be a harder blow. I'm going to begin another bigger and more important suit for the dissolution of the American chemical trust."

Stuart slipped his arm around the older man with a movement of instinctive tenderness.

FRAIL, SICKLY CHILD

Restored to Health by Vinol—A Letter to Mothers.

Anxious mothers often wonder why their children are so pale, thin and nervous and have so little appetite. For the benefit of such mothers in this vicinity we publish the following letter.

J. Edmund Miller, New Haven, Conn., says: "My little daughter ever since her birth had been frail and sickly, and was a constant source of worry. Several months ago we commenced to give her Vinol. I immediately noted an improvement in her health and appearance, and from the good it has done her I can truly say it will do all you claim."

This child's recovery was due to the combined action of the medicinal elements extracted from cods' livers, combined with the blood making and strength creating properties of tonic iron, which are contained in Vinol.

Vinol will build up and strengthen delicate children, old people, and the weak, run down and debilitated. We return the money in every case where it fails. F. B. Johnson and Company Druggists, Rushville.

How the Guards Were Killed

By EDWARD C. TUCKER

I found this letter in a trunk in my garret, containing family papers as far back as 1801. It was written under date of 1807 from Henderson county, Ky., by my grandfather, then eighteen years of age, to his mother living in Ohio:

Dear Mother—Since I wrote you we have had considerable trouble with the Indians. One morning a man named Boone came in from the south and said a party of redskins were coming up, burning houses by the way and murdering the settlers. We at once set to work to inclose the house in a fort. Of course, having little time, we couldn't build much of a protection.

All we could do was to cut down the trees within rifle shot, take the trunks of the saplings and stand them up in a circle, burying one end in the ground. Inside we built a rude platform, on which a man could walk around the house and keep an eye out for trouble.

We got the thing furnished—such as it was—before we heard anything of the Indians. Then one night we heard shots to the south, lasting about half an hour, then saw a red glare. The Harbeson family were the only ones living in that direction, and we reckoned they had been attacked, all had been killed and their house burned. Pretty soon we saw forms on horseback in the dark coming to us, and we all got ready to defend ourselves. They came galloping along straight for us. We knew Indians didn't come that way and held our fire. Then we heard a man's voice call out "Friends!" and the Harbesons came up.

We took them in, and they told us they had defended their home till they saw they would be overpowered, then ran out the back door and, hidden by trees, reached the barn and got away on the horses without the Indians knowing it. I was mighty glad to see Elizabeth, who fainted and fell in my arms as soon as she got inside our stockade.

We didn't see an Indian that night or next day, but I knew the redskins were all about us. They were watching us from ambush. I felt pretty sure they would not attack us openly, for that's not their way of fighting. True, we had only nine men and two boys though the women were ready to do their part, but the red devils didn't know how many we had, and they don't like stockades anyway.

On the second night after the Harbesons came it was Jim Hawkins' turn to keep watch, while we all slept with our rifles ready beside us. He could see so far on all sides that an Indian couldn't shoot him without coming over an open space, for, as you know, the house is on the top of a hill. What were our surprise and horror in the morning to find Jim's dead body on the platform behind the stockade. He had been shot. No one was in sight, the only living thing we could see being a bear about a mile away walking slowly toward a clump of trees. He was just within range, but we didn't shoot him, all our powder and ball being kept for the Indians.

The next night was Thursday, and John Harbeson insisted on taking the watch. It was awful in the morning to see him lying dead, the same as Jim Hawkins. Two of our men had been killed, leaving only seven. If they killed a man every night they'd have us all in a week. What we couldn't understand was how the savage could get within range, for the moon was more than half full and every night was clear. A sentinel at the fort could see a long distance.

We were more terrified at this mode of warfare than any other the Indians could practice. Something must be done. I proposed as soon as it was dark to crawl out in the direction from which both men must have been shot and lie in the bushes to watch. So about the time the others were going to sleep Sam Turner went on watch, and I crawled out, keeping behind low bushes as far as I thought best and lay in a little hollow where the grass was long.

About 2 o'clock in the morning, when I was having to pinch myself to keep awake, I saw in the moonlight a bear leave the same wood I saw the one go into the morning Jim Hawkins was shot. He walked slowly about, nosing the ground as though scenting something, and I noticed he was all the time getting nearer the fort.

I kept an eye on the creature, but I could not exactly make out what he was doing. By and by he stopped and sat up on his haunches. Then he stood on his two hind legs, and I saw he was using his fore legs just as a man would use his arms.

The first thing I knew the bear stood just like a man about to shoot. Then the whole matter of the shooting of our watchers popped into my head. I was lying on my stomach with my rifle in my hand. I knew I hadn't much time to aim before the bear would get Turner, so I fired quick, and the bear dropped. I concluded I'd killed him, for I aimed for his head.

I didn't dare to go to him for fear some Indian behind him would pick me off, so I crawled back into the fort, and as soon as it was day several of us went out together and found a dead Indian in a bear skin.

He was the only Indian we ever saw, and I reckon the rest went away, leaving us alone.

The Town Richelieu Designed.
Seldom has a town been more wholly the expression of its founder's will than Richelieu, the tiny square built town in the corner of Touraine and Poltoun. It is like some old Greek colony. The streets are cut at right angles. The towers, the church, the private houses, are all wonderful examples of the purest Louis XIII. style. They were all built at the same time in accordance with the cardinal's plan to form a city by the little chateau which is supposed to have been the scene of his birth in 1585. Whether this be so or not (for another tradition places his birth at Paris), Richelieu was the place the cardinal loved and strove to dignify by founding a new town. He approved the plans of a square walled city with six gates, gave exemption from taxes to those inhabitants who built the first hundred houses and built for himself outside a marvelous chateau, rivaling the state of the king, which has since been destroyed.—Westminster Gazette.

Bay Tree Beliefs.

Long before the time of Shakespeare the bay tree was an object of superstition. The withering of such a tree was believed to be a sure indication of coming misfortune to those with whom it was in any way connected. Shakespeare gave voice to the superstition in "Richard II." when he made one of his characters say:

"Tis thought the king is dead; we'll not stay—
The bay trees in our country are withered."

It was thought by the ancients that lightning would never harm this tree, and it was customary among them to carry bay leaves as a charm against the thunderbolts of Jove. The same belief was long prevalent in England, and reference to it may be found in an old poem dedicated to Ben Jonson: I see that wreathe which doth the wearer arm Against the quick strokes of thunder is no charm

To keep off death's pale dart.

The Magic of a Siphon.

When a pipe shaped like the inverted letter U, in which the arms are of equal length, is filled with water and each end of the pipe is put into a separate vessel full of water "the downward pull," or weight, of the liquid in each of the two arms will balance the other, and if the water is at the same level in the two vessels it will remain at that level in both vessels. But if the level of the water in one vessel is lower than in the other, since the two vessels are connected with a pipe full of water, the water will run down from the higher level to the lower. This constitutes what is called a siphon. A siphon itself has no more magic about it than a pencil has when it falls or than any other similar phenomenon in nature, yet some of the siphon's manifestations seem to be not only magical, but almost incredible.—St. Nicholas.

EXPLOSIONS BEGAN WITH "OPEN SHOP"

This Is the Evidence Brought Out In Dynamite Trial.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—In the dynamite cases Superintendent Trower of the Pittsburgh Construction company was a witness and gave accounts of depositions against his company. Prior to the time the construction company began to run an "open shop," Trower testified, there were no explosions, but in 1906, he said, when the company was running an "open shop," there were a number. In Cleveland, at the B. & O. viaduct, oil was poured on 5,000 or 6,000 feet of rope belonging to the company, and this was set on fire. About the same time a derrick car being used at another job was dynamited. Trower also testified regarding three explosions directed against the Cincinnati Southern viaduct at Cincinnati, in 1909. Ed Clark, who has pleaded guilty, was about this work frequently, said Trower, seeking to get the company to employ union men only. Witness said: "I asked Clark if that would stop the dynamiting. He hesitated for a while and then said he could not say."

Witness gave a list of depositions against his company, which included an explosion at Newark, N. J., and one in New York city, in addition to those in Cleveland and Cincinnati.

May 14 Charles Wachtmeister wrote to McNamara, giving a list of "unfair work" in Detroit investigated by him. He said: "McClintick and Marshall have the viaduct on new depot, but as much as I can find out they have not got the depot part."

May 2 Ryan wrote to McNamara that he had looked over the Pennsylvania Steel company's job at the extreme west end of the Broadway subway in New York, and that the erection of steel was just starting. This work was dynamited May 24, 1910. In this letter Ryan said Hockin might run out to Kansas City and see what could be done there through a committee. "I am skeptical about its effectiveness," wrote Ryan.

TRIAL BEGINS

Gunmen Accused in Rosenthal Murder Case Arraigned Today.

New York, Nov. 8.—The four gunmen accused of directly murdering Rosenthal were placed on trial before Justice Goff today. They were arraigned in the following order: Frank Muller (Whitey Lewis), Frank Cirofici (Dago Frank), Louis Rosenberg (Lefty Louie), and Harry Horowitz (Gyp the Blood).

District Attorney Whitman will use many of the witnesses who appeared at Becker's trial and probably all the informers will be called to testify.

The gunmen will probably take the stand. That any of them will turn "informer" the district attorney regards as unlikely. If they go to the electric chair he thinks they will take whatever secrets they have with them.

Andrew Carnegie has sworn off his personal taxes. He said he had not a cent of personal property in the world that wasn't offset by contracts for libraries, pensions, peace palaces and other extravagant pastimes.

TURKISH RULE IN EUROPE IS OVER

Nothing Now Can Stay the Victorious Bulgars.

RUSHING ON TO THE CAPITAL

With the Fall of the Last Fort Lying Between the Triumphant Army of King Ferdinand and Constantinople, the Remnant of the Turkish Army in Full Flight, Salonika Taken and Scutari Falling, the End Is in Sight.

Constantinople, Nov. 8.—The war will be fought to a finish. After a conference of the commanders and Marshal Fuad Pasha, the latter returned to Constantinople and submitted his own and the conference view of the situation. He said it was quite unnecessary to despair, and urged the government to resist to the last. Nazim Pasha and the crown prince telegraphed to the same effect. The government, whether it was coerced or persuaded, yielded, and at a meeting of the ambassadors it was announced that the Turkish government no longer desired the offices of the powers.

London, Nov. 8.—The victorious Bulgarians made one swift, vicious assault on the fortifications of Tehtaldja and won them. The disheartened Turks are now scattered over the twenty-five mile district between these captured lines of defense and Constantinople, and the Bulgarians are pursuing them, capturing some and killing others. There is now nothing save these disorganized fleeing bands of Turks to stop the Bulgarians in their conquering march toward the capital of their enemies.

Flushed with the increasing total of victories, the Bulgarian troops, under the direction of King Ferdinand, decided that it would not be necessary to await the arrival of the reinforcements which have already started from Sofia. The grating hatred which the Bulgars feel toward the Turks fed fire to the zeal of the soldiers, and after testing the mettle of the defensive army by pressing them hard on Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday, King Ferdinand decided on one assault. The Turks had been yielding to his varied attacks during these days, and yesterday afternoon he piled all his forces on top of the Turks in a sweeping assault.

The Turks resisted as best they could, but the soldiers are weak from lack of food, disheartened by defeat, and have endured terrific physical hardships during the few weeks of the war, and at last were pushed from their position. The retreat of the Turks began in confusion, which increased as the Bulgarians pressed home their attacks, and at last the Turks broke into a sprint for their capital, throwing away their packs and arms to increase their speed.

The effect on the porte is that it is hastening its efforts for peace. The cabinet wants it on any terms, provided it is granted quickly. To this end the cabinet decided to give free rein to the powers in arranging for a cessation of hostilities.

The loss of the Tehtaldja lines of defense became known in Constantinople just after the war department got news of the surrender of Salonika and news of other Turkish losses throughout European Turkey. Salonika had been making a gallant defense, but the Greeks had been attacking it in so wholesale a manner that it has been known for several days that the Turkish garrison could not withstand it. The Turkish commander would not trust his men to surrender, and his army simply abandoned the town, burning down several bridges to prevent pursuit.

The situation for the Turks defending Sentari against the Montenegrins makes it appear impossible that there is much hope for them.

The situation in Constantinople is growing in desperation every day. Every Christian who can do so is leaving the capital. There are 600,000 Christians in the town normally. Those who know the Turks and the conditions are sure that a general massacre will start, and that thousands of Christians must lose their lives.

One of the Daily Mail's war correspondents has just reached Bucharest from Sofia and telegraphs as follows: "I have grounds for believing that Adrianople has fallen, but the Bulgarians are concealing the fact lest the powers, realizing that a decisive point has been reached in the war, should intervene before the capture of Constantinople. Extraordinary endeavors have been made to prevent the news from getting out. Nothing has been issued officially at Sofia. I understand that the Adrianople garrison, hopelessly encircled by steel and having failed in all the attempted sorties, offered to surrender on condition that the garrison be allowed to march out with the honors of war. This was refused and the bombardment continued. The entire garrison then surrendered unconditionally."

FEDERAL GRAND JURY INDICTS "BIG SMOKE"

Jack Johnson Charged With Being White Slaver.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—On a charge of violating the Mann white slave act, the federal grand jury has indicted pugilist Jack Johnson. The indictment charges Johnson with bringing a girl named Bell Schrieber from Pittsburg to Chicago for unlawful purposes.

Lucille Cameron and several of Johnson's employees were witnesses before the grand jury. It is now probable that the Cameron girl, who has been held as a witness in default of $25,000 bonds, will be released, and that she will return to her home in Minneapolis with her mother, with whom she has become reconciled.

Johnson was subsequently released on $30,000 bail.

ANOTHER CHANCE

Supreme Court Reverses Lower Court in the Fritz Case.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—John Fritz, who killed his guard in the Jeffersonville reformatory Nov. 21, 1911, is to have a new trial. The supreme court has reversed the Clark circuit court for giving an instruction regarding the weight of evidence which would have allowed the jury to convict Fritz if the jury thought such evidence showed Fritz was sane when he committed the crime, instead of instructing it should show beyond a reasonable doubt that he was sane.

The lower court is reversed with an order for a new trial and Fritz is ordered back from Michigan City to Jeffersonville reformatory to be again tried for murder.

Death Closes the Incident.

Seymour, Ind., Nov. 8.—Hugh A. Burrell, against whom several charges of embezzlement and forgery were pending in the Jackson circuit court, as a result of failure of the People's State Bank at Brownstown, of which he was president, is dead after a long illness of Bright's disease. The cases against him were postponed from time to time because of his physical condition.

Serious Fire at Hebron.

Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 8.—The town of Hebron was saved from destruction by fire by the aid of a bucket brigade of 200 persons. The buildings of the Masonic society, J. B. Dailey, Sleva's estate, G. A. R. society and Smith Brothers, occupied by a dozen business firms and secret societies, were destroyed.

INDIANA VOTE ABOUT ALL IN

Unofficial Returns Make Ralston's Plurality 118,000.

BEVERIDGE AHEAD OF DURBIN

The Democrats, Besides Electing Their Entire State Ticket, Elect All Their Thirteen Candidates For Congress, Ninety-Two of the Hundred Members of the House, and All the Twenty-Five Senators Elected.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—Including official and unofficial returns, the latest figures on the state ticket in Indiana give Ralston 280,103, Durbin 144,171, and Beveridge 163,046. Ralston's plurality over Beveridge is 117,057; over Durbin 135,103. Beveridge's plurality over Durbin is 18,875.

The latest compilation of the vote of the state for president gives Woodrow Wilson 279,887; President Taft, 151,157; Roosevelt, 160,903, and Debs, 21,135. This gives Wilson an estimated plurality of 118,984 over Roosevelt and over Taft 128,730. Roosevelt's plurality over Taft, 9,746. The lowering of the Wilson vote from the vote given earlier is due to returns from the northern tier of Indiana counties, which were late in reaching Indianapolis.

One of the surprises of the election was the vote polled for Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist candidate for president, in Madison county. Debs received 146 more votes than President Taft, according to the unofficial returns. The vote for president was: Wilson, 6,586; Taft, 1,771; Roosevelt, 4,751; Debs, 1,917. Governor—Ralston, 6,376; Durbin, 1,697; Beveridge, 4,800.

Reports on all except two of the one hundred members of the lower house of the legislature show that the Democrats elected ninety-two members, the Republicans five and the Progressives one, from Wayne county.

The Democrats elected senators in all the twenty-five districts in which elections were held. Of the twenty-five holdover senators fifteen are Democrats.

The representatives in the Indiana legislature elected by Republicans are Stephen Daugherty, in Benton and Warren counties; E. G. Gilmore, in Knox; William Newton, in Lake; W. B. Van Horn, in Lake and Newton, and A. J. Smutzer, in Laporte and Porter. The Progressives elected one representative, John W. Judkins, from Wayne county. The Democrats elected their candidates for congress in all the thirteen districts. The Indiana delegation in the next congress will be as follows:

First District—Charles F. Lieb. Second—William A. Cullop. Third—William E. Cox. Fourth—Lincoln Dixon. Fifth—Ralph W. Moss. Sixth—Finley H. Gray. Seventh—Charles A. Korbly. Eighth—John A. M. Adair. Ninth—Martin A. Morrison. Tenth—John Peterson. Eleventh—George W. Rauch. Twelfth—Cyrus Cline. Thirteenth—Henry A. Barnhart.

According to the latest compilations of the vote for Indiana, Beveridge has carried five counties and Durbin three. The counties credited to Beveridge are: Elkhart, Lagrange, Lake, Randolph and Wayne. Durbin carried Porter, Steuben and Warren.

The same returns also indicate that Roosevelt carried five counties and Taft two. The Roosevelt counties are: Elkhart, Lagrange, Lake, Randolph and Wayne, while those credited to Taft are Porter and Warren.

This indication is given from a complete canvass, of which about 50 per cent is officially announced.

IDENTIFIED HIM

Victim of Negro Gunman Sure of Man Who Attacked Her.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Clara Baxter, who was assaulted and robbed while asleep in a tent on the bank of Fall creek during the state fair, has positively identified Frank Willie Smith, the negro gunman, charged with the murder of Philip Lepper and Frank Foxall, Oct. 2, as her assailant. Mrs. Baxter and her husband, Walter Baxter, are performers and were with a midway attraction at the state fair. Because of the heat at night they camped in a tent near their sleeping car. On the morning of Tuesday of fair week they were found bleeding and unconscious in their tent and $800 worth of diamonds and $45 in money were missing.

Mysterious Murder of Physician. Fortville, Ind., Nov. 8.—Dr. A. A. Stuart, sixty-two years old, was shot to death in the doorway of his home at 8:30 o'clock last night. The only positive clue to the murder is a soft black hat found near the body of the victim. Guy Stuart, thirty years old, a son, is under arrest, but protests his innocence. The only other theory of the murder is that it was committed by a robber who had entered the home after Dr. Stuart had retired.

President-elect Menocal of Cuba will visit the United States prior to his inauguration.

FOLLOWERS OF CRIMSON GOING

Many Local Alumni And Former Students of Indiana University Plan to See Game.

WITH IOWA IN INDIANAPOLIS

Clash of Two Big Eight Football Teams Will Attract a Large Crowd.

Many Alumni and former students of Indiana university here are planning to go to Indianapolis tomorrow to see the State school foot ball team in action for the first time this season. Indiana will meet the Iowa university eleven at Washington park in Indianapolis tomorrow afternoon at two-thirty o'clock.

While the greatest interest in the foot-ball festivities centers in the Indiana-Iowa clash, the curtain raiser between teams representing the Brownsburg and Sheridan high schools is expected to draw a large crowd of rooters. These two elevens represent the class of the high school teams of the State, and are said to be evenly matched. Both will be accompanied to Indianapolis by large rooting delegations.

Especially interest is being aroused in Saturday's game by supporters of the Brownsburg team which has not lost a contest this year. Two ear loads of rooters will come from Brownsburg alone. Play in the curtain raiser will be called at 1 o'clock.

Coach Hawley and his squad of twenty Iowans reached Indianapolis from Iowa City at 2:40 this afternoon, in time for a light limbering up practice. The Hawk-eyes established headquarters at the English hotel. Coach Sheldon will not take the crimson squad to Indianapolis until Saturday morning, when the team will be accompanied by Indiana rooters in special trains. The early calls for tickets indicate a big sale.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM PLAYS FRANKLIN

Locals Have Small Hope of Victory But Will Work For Low Score.

PRESENTS FAST LINE UP

The Rushville high school football team left this morning for Franklin where they play the fast high school team of that place this afternoon. The local team has little hope of victory over the fast team there but believe they can hold Franklin to a low score.

GWYNNEVILLE TO CELEBRATE.

The Democratic leaders of the Gwynneville community have made arrangements for a big rally at the place Friday night, to celebrate the great victory of the Democratic party throughout the United States. Many people are expected to attend from a distance.

SCRAP DID IT.

Connersville News: But really when you look at the matter as it really was, the Democrats didn't elect themselves into power. The real way it happened was that former Republicans got into a "scrap" among themselves and left the door open. The Democrats slipped in.

APPEALS FOR BROADER VIEW

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger of This City Makes Speech at Indiana Osteopathic Association Meeting.

TALKS ABOUT SCHOOL LAW

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, of Rushville, says the Indianapolis News in speaking of the Indiana Osteopathic Association, made a plea for a broader interpretation of the Indiana laws in regard to medical examination of school children, in order to give the osteopaths of the state an opportunity to participate in the work of "the conservation of the health and lives of the human family."

"The approved methods of the medical profession," he said, "is to treat symptoms as they arise, while the method of the osteopaths is to correct the cause that produces the symptoms." While the present school inspection law is a step in the right direction, he said, he thought it was too narrow when it provides that no physician shall be appointed for public school inspection unless he is a graduate of a medical college and holds a license to practice medicine in the state. This provision, he said, excludes osteopathic physicians from becoming examiners in any public school in the state. Dr. Kinsinger highly commended the sanitary school house law.

LOCALS PLAY NEWCASTLE

Independents Stack up Against Strong Team Sunday Afternoon.

The Rushville Independents will play the first Newcastle team here Sunday afternoon instead of the Connersville team as was first announced. The Connersville team was unable to come and as the New Castle aggregation is the strongest of the two a hard fought game is expected. The locals will be forced to extend themselves as the Newcastle team will put up a stiff game. It will be the second contest of the season for the locals and they hope to repeat the trick of last Sunday when they defeated Shelbyville. The game will be called at 2 o'clock.

GAME AT KNIGHTSTOWN.

Ed Jameson, as manager of the Connersville Independents, has scheduled a foot ball game at Knightstown Sunday. The Connersville team is a strong aggregation and Mr. Jamison has confident hopes of a victory.

POSTOFFICE GETS ORDER.

Postmaster Frazee received notice from Acting Postmaster General Grandfield, ordering him to keep the flag at the postoffice at half mast for thirty days on account of the death of Vice President Sherman.

REPUBLICANS SQUEEZED OUT

Will Have no Representation in Next
Election on State and County
Commissions.

NOR ON THE ELECTION BOARDS

Membership is Based on Vote in State
and Not on That of the County.

In getting more votes than the Republican party in Indiana the Bull Moosers will profit by "second party" possibilities in county, State and municipal affairs, according to State officials. Practically all of the election machinery at coming elections will be operated by the Democrats and Bull Moosers in Indiana, as it will in many other States.

The statutes, providing for the printing of the ballots for an election, definitely establish the order in which the first two parties' tickets shall appear on the ballot from left to right. The Democratic ticket comes first and next the Republican.

In the appointment of the State board of election commissioners, however, as well as in the appointment of county boards, county election sheriffs and judges, the statutes provide that the appointments shall be made from "the two parties that cast the highest number of votes in the State at the last preceding election."

It makes no difference whether the Republicans carried a particular county or state, the officials declare. The election machinery in that county will be apportioned to the Democrats and Bull Moosers because the appointments are based on the outcome of the state election.

There has been a mistaken impression here that the membership of the county election commission and the election boards is governed by the vote in the county, which would leave the Republican party represented in Rush county, but such is not the case.

The state board of election commissioners has the power to fix the status of the remaining tickets on the general ballot after the Democratic and Republican tickets are placed in the first two places. In that manner, it is said, the Bull Moosers, because one of their number will be appointed to the state board, may succeed in supplanting the Prohibition party in position on the ballot. The Prohibition party has been in third place.

Many of the boards and commissions, whose members are appointive, either by the Governor or governing boards, provide for bipartisan or nonpartisan control. In such instances the law usually reads so that the appointing power may use his own judgment about selecting the parties from which the appointees are to be garnered.

The law that governs the appointment of jury commissioners says that the two men appointed shall be members of opposing political parties, so these appointments will still be within the discretion of the judge of the circuit court.

With reference to members of the board of review the law says two freeholders shall be appointed to serve in addition to the auditor, treasurer and assessor of the county. It has long been the custom for the court to appoint a Democrat and a Republican to membership on the board of review. Whether or not this custom will continue is another matter that the judge of the court will have to determine.

Fair tonight and Saturday.

PALMER TRIAL POSTPONED

Blind Tiger Case Will be Heard Wednesday.

The trial of Dave Palmer, charged with operating a "blind tiger," which was set for this afternoon, was postponed because Wallace Morgan, prosecutor, was out of the city. Mayor Black will probably hear the case next Wednesday afternoon. Palmer was arrested election day after the police found a keg of beer in his house and is charged with running a blind tiger. Palmer is out on $250 bond, furnished by Hyman Schatz.

AND CARY JACKSON IS STUNG AT THAT

Goes up to Pick Out Seat Day After Election But Finds Them.

All Taken.

HIS PLURALITY INCREASED

Cary Jackson of this city, joint senator-elect from Rush, Fayette and Hancock counties, went to Indianapolis yesterday to pick out a seat in the senate chamber in the State house. He thought he would be sly and be there early and get his choice of the good locations to be had in the room. Imagine his dismay when he found that most of the Democrats who were running for the State senate had gone to the chamber before the election and selected their seats! All the choice ones were taken and he will have to be content with sitting in the rear and taking somebody else's word for what's going on up in front.

The returns from the one precinct in Hancock county increases Jackson's plurality over Duncan to 2732. The vote in this precinct was Jackson, 78; Duncan 11 and Stoops, 53. This reduces Duncan's plurality over Stoops to 1254.

CARTMEL CASE SET DOWN

Second Damage Suit Against I & C.
Will be Heard Monday.

The case of Thomas Cartmel as administrator of the estate of his father, the late Samuel A. Cartmel, near Waldron, who was killed by a traction car in that town January 10, 1910, against the I & C. Traction Co., has been set for trial November 11, 1912, and a special venire of twelve has been ordered for jury service at the trial, says the Shelby Democrat. The plaintiff's mother was killed in the same accident and he recently obtained a judgment against the company for $700 because of her death.

FILES SUIT TO COLLECT $80

A. J. Roth Brings Action Against
John A. Greenawalt of This City

Andrew J. Roth filed suit in the circuit court this afternoon against John S. Greenawalt to collect eighty dollars paid as surety. The plaintiff alleges that he went on a note for $75 of Greenawalt's. The money was loaned by the Farmers and Merchants Trust company of Connersville. He alleges that Greenawalt failed to pay the note and that he had to on June 14, 1912. He demands eighty dollars, which includes principle and interest.

WINTER STOCKS ON THE SHELVES

Rushville Merchants Are Preparing
To Care For Heavier Fall
Trade Than Ever.

DISPLAYS ARE ATTRACTIVE.

Stores Are Showing Nobby Line of
Fall and Winter Goods
That Will Please.

One of the conclusive indications of the autumnal season is the display of the excellent stocks of fall and winter goods at the various stores in the city. The last of the shipments of these goods were received some time ago and are now on display for the convenience of the customers. Several people have remarked that the display windows and store rooms were better decorated and more artistically arranged this fall than for many years.

The display windows are crowded with all kinds of attractive goods and the stores in every branch of business are equipped to supply almost any demand the customers might make. The people of Rushville have a right to feel proud of the stores, for they have much to do with the appearance of the business section of the city. The stores here are much better arranged than those in many cities of this size, and it is probably this fact that causes visitors to say "that Rushville is the liveliest and busiest city in eastern Indiana."

There is no need of any citizen of Rushville going out of this city to buy what he needs. In every line of business the stocks are complete and almost every want could be supplied by the home merchants. There is another advantage in trading in Rushville and that is, that the same quality of goods can be purchased here at less prices than in larger cities where rents are higher and operating expenses exceed those of the stores in Rushville.

The majority of the local merchants purchase their goods from the same wholesale houses that supply the city stores. Frequently the same goods are on display here that are sold in the city stores but the prices are considerably lower here than in other places.

Rushville is also situated so that it can supply a wider scope of surrounding territory. The people living in the vicinity of this city are becoming more and more aware of the fact that the stores here cannot be surpassed and as result considerable trade is coming to Rushville from surrounding towns, some of which are located in the adjoining counties.

The Rushville merchants are striving to give their customers the very best goods at the most reasonable prices. Everyday they are telling the public through their advertisements what they are offering, and the people could make no mistake in following the advertisements closely.

The merchants are expecting an unusually large trade this fall and winter and have made arrangements to supply a large number of customers.

SOME BREAKFAST.

The Morristown Sun says Miss Nellie Keaton has gone to Knightstown and taken charge of the dining department at the Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home. She has written home to her parents that she has 400 children in charge, that it takes 20 gallons of coffee for a meal and 23 dozen eggs for breakfast.

MAYOR BLACK IS NEW ENTRANT

Chief Executive of City is Said to be Latest Contestant in Race For Postoffice.

2 OFFICES BECOME VACANT

Local Doctors Already Worrying
Finly Gray For Place on Pen-
sioner's Examining Board.

Mayor B. A. Black is said to be the latest entrant into the race for the postmaster's job in Rushville. It is understood that he has not been thought a contender for this place until the election has proved beyond any peradventure of a doubt that the Democrats will have control over most any old office.

Local Democrats who had looked on the postoffice with covetous eyes when the prospects for a Democratic national victory began to loom up never even considered Mayor Black as a candidate for the job. He was elected mayor of Rushville on the Democratic ticket and they believed that he would be content with what he had.

Finly H. Gray, sixth district congressman-elect, will doubtless have a merry time dishing out the offices. It is he who will have to settle on the man who shall run the postoffice. If he gets out of the muddle without making any enemies he will probably will be more diplomatic than are most congressmen.

Although Finly has been sick in bed and was able to be out on the street yesterday for the first time for several days, he is already being besieged by local Democrats who aspire to have a hand in the public treasury.

It is understood that some local doctors have already written the congressman for a place on the pensioner's examining board for the county. This is an appointive board filled by the congressman. There are said to be several physicians who are hot on the trail of Mr. Gray for the job even though Democratic victory is only three days old.

One doctor, it is said, plans to get the bugle on the other contestants for a place on the board and go to Connersville and see Finly as soon as he can get audience with the congressman. The pay of the members of the examining board is very small nevertheless there are Democrats who are only too willing to take it.

Two city positions will become automatically vacant as a result of the election of Tuesday. O. C. Norris, Democratic member of the city, was elected representative from this county and A. R. Holden, a member of the city school board, was elected county auditor.

Both of these positions will be filled by the city council and they will both be Democrats who will succeed Democrats as the Democrats hold the balance of power on the city council. Without Mr. Norris there are two Democrats and two Republicans, which will give the mayor the deciding vote.

There will not be much of O. C. Norris' term as city councilman to fill out. He will take office in the next session of the Indiana legislature which convenes in January. There will be a city election the next fall and the present city council will retire from office in January, 1914.

COULDN'T BE WORSE.

Connersville News: "Look out for a stormy November" says an exchange in a headline over a mess of Hicks dope. Here is hoping that nothing worse will strike us than the "storm" of Tuesday. It will take four years to recover from that.

IS PASTORS ASSISTANT

Miss Edith Holden Fills New Position
in Local Church.

Miss Edith Holden has been appointed pastor's assistant to the Rev. C. M. Yocum, pastor of the Main Street Christian church. This is a new position in Rushville as heretofore all ministers have attempted to attend to their varied duties as best they could. Miss Holden will relieve the pastor of much of the duty of calling on the members of his flock, and will do some clerical work. In reality she will be a social worker, and her work is expected to accomplish much good in many of the poorer homes in Rushville.

GRAY'S PLURALITY FOUND TO BE 8340

Franklin County And Lone Precinct
In Hancock County Included
Boosts Risk Into Second.

Revised figures on the sixth district congressional race between the three principal candidates reveal that Finly H. Gray of Connersville, the present incumbent, carried the district by a plurality of 8340 over the Republican candidate, William L. Risk of Newcastle. The official count from every precinct in the district shows in addition that Risk and not Gierlaf Jensen of Shelbyville, the Bull Moose candidate, ran second. Risks plurality over Jensen was 81.

The lone precinct in Hancock county which was out yesterday gave Gray, 97; Risk, 13; and Jensen 51. The Franklin county vote which was not included yesterday, is responsible for boosting Risk into second place in the race and increasing Gray's plurality. The vote there was: Gray, 2305; Risk, 1005; Jensen, 481. Gray's plurality over Jensen was 8421.

ATTENDANCE ON INCREASE

More Children in School Last Year
Than Year Before.

During the school year of 1911-12 in Indiana there was an average daily attendance of almost eight thousand more children at the public schools than in the year preceding and the figures do not include the returns from Clay county, which have not yet reached the office of Charles A. Greathouse, state superintendent of public instruction. John I. Hoffman, deputy of Mr. Greathouse, has compiled the totals from the other ninety-one counties, however, and they show that there was an average daily attendance of 423,330. In the school year of 1910-11 the average was 415,492.

MAY CHANGE LOCATION.

Shirley News: Cox & Cox, millers of Carthage, were in Shirley looking for a location for their flour mill, now located at Carthage. They interviewed several local business men and received considerable encouragement from them on a plan to bring a mill here. Several of the business men of Shirley have visited the mill at Carthage since then and are favorably impressed with the mill and the proposition made them by Messrs. Cox & Cox.

RUSHVILLE TO BE IN LEAGUE

Dal Williams is Bringing to Close Negotiations For Sunday Ball
Organization.

SIX TEAMS WANTED IN LEAGUE

May Represent Newcastle, Rushville,
Richmond, Connersville, Mun-
cie and One Road Club.

Dal Williams, manager of the Maxwell baseball club, is now engaged in organizing a Sunday league for next season and is meeting with much success, says the Newcastle Courier. Williams and E. C. Weadon, manager of the Indianapolis T. T.'s, have the matter in hand and are rapidly bringing their plans to a head. It is proposed to have the circuit include the cities of Muncie, Richmond, Newcastle, Connersville and Rushville, with the Indianapolis club as a traveling team. Baseball was prosperous in all of the cities except Connersville during the season that has just ended. However, it is believed that Connersville is now ripe for baseball and that the fans will give the game their loyal support. The enthusiasts there are ready to put a team in the field.

Rushville is anxious to get in the league. At Richmond Wednesday Manager Williams had a conference with the owners of the best ball park there and they expressed a willingness to participate in the league. Richmond was in the K. I. O. organization last season and the experience was unsatisfactory.

Negotiations are also pending with Muncie and will be taken up for final settlement within a few days. The Muncie fans are anxious for league ball and with the building of the extension of the Houey Bee line will be put in close touch with the other towns in the proposed new circuit.

CAUSES SEVERAL CHANGES

One Property Sale Leads to Many
Other Changes.

The sale of Bert Trabue's property in North Morgan street to Thomas Sullivan has resulted in a number of sales and changes in residence. Mr. Sullivan has sold his beautiful suburban home west of the city to Henry Heckman, who has been a tenant on Joe Cowing's farm for a number of years. Henry Halterman of near Moscow will move on to Mr. Cowing's farm. Mr. and Mrs. Trabue are moving into the north one of the two new residences recently erected by Mr. Trabue on the lot at the corner of Perkins and Eighth streets.

TO MEET AGAIN THURSDAY

County Board of Commissioners Hold
a Short Session Yesterday.

The county commissioners held a short meeting yesterday to attend to matters pertaining to the Frank McCorkle road. At the meeting they reappointed Jabez Smith custodian of the court house for the year beginning January 1, 1913 and ending December 1, 1913. The commissioners will meet again next Thursday for some extensive ditch and road business.

Mrs. Harve Cowing and Mrs. Charles Cowing were visitors in Indianapolis today.

A miscellaneous shower was given last Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Moffatt, in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Catt, who were recently married at New Castle. About thirty-two guests were present and spent a pleasant evening. Several pretty and useful gifts were received. Mrs. Catt was formerly Miss Welborn and is well known in this locality. A host of well wishers join in wishing the young couple a long and prosperous life together.

The Lillian M. N. Stevens W. C. T. U. met at the pleasant home of Mrs. Ida Byrket Wednesday, Oct. 30. The president, Mrs. Sarah Moffatt called the meeting to order, after singing "Alone with God." The devotions were conducted by Mrs. Edna Cheney. Twelve members responded to roll call with autumn poems. Mrs. Estella Elliott gave a report of the State convention, which was held at Kokomo. Mrs. Moffatt gave a good reading. Guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Cephas Edmundson, Mrs. Lukens, Mrs. Ella Moffatt and Miss Bessie Moffatt, Mrs. Myrtle Small, Mrs. Fred Leonard, Mrs. Mary Longwell, Mrs. Will Webster, Misses Carrie Moffatt and Belva Webster—the latter four became members of the Union in the usual manner. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Floy Dawson on Nov. 27th. On our departure the hostess presented each one with a sack of popcorn and candy.

Rev. J. H. Miller of Mays and A. C. Kirkham attended a men's meeting at Dayton Wednesday.

Miss Edythe Davis entertained the young women's and young men's classes of the Center Sunday school at a Halloween party at her home last Thursday night. The guests were invited to come masked as ghosts and they certainly presented a weird appearance draped in sheets and pillow cases. On arriving they were greeted by a red imp who lead the girls by a winding path to the bath room window where they were directed to climb a step ladder and trust to luck. The boys were conducted through the cellar window and 'tis said that one came near not getting through on account of size. After all had assembled and after passing some time in the dimly lighted rooms each one was lead up stairs where a witch and her attendants told them their doom. After hearing the future the guests unmasked and proceeded to spend the evening in playing charades and in music. Refreshments of pumpkin pie, cake and apples and delicious home-made candies were served. Miss Davis was assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dill, Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis and Misses Mildred Davis and Dorothy Dill. All departed at a late hour thanking their hostess for a most pleasant evening.

WILSON TAKES ILLINOIS VOTE

That State Lifted From the Roosevelt Column.

TAFT VOTE ALSO IS REDUCED

Later Returns Take Wyoming From the President's Scant Proportion and Give It to His Democratic Opponent—Besides Having Overwhelming Majority in House, Democrats Now Seem Certain of Controlling Senate.

New York, Nov. 8.—Woodrow Wilson carried forty states and will have 442 electoral votes, according to fuller returns. This leaves Roosevelt second with five states and 77 electoral votes, while President Taft has but three with twelve votes to be cast for him. More complete returns took Illinois from Roosevelt and added its twenty-seven votes to the Wilson column, while dispatches from Cheyenne declare that Wilson has carried Wyoming by a small plurality, which takes three out of the previous Taft column. This apparently final line-up gives Idaho, Utah and Vermont to Taft and Michigan, Minnesota, Pennsylvania, South Dakota and Washington to Roosevelt, Wilson taking the remainder of the states.

The Democrats appear reasonably certain of controlling the United States senate, although it will be very close. The Republicans had a majority of seven in the present session, with three vacancies. While the Democrats have held their own in their states, the indications are that they have taken two seats away from the Republicans in Colorado, one in Delaware, one in New Jersey, one in Kansas, and one in Montana. They may win one in Nevada, while Democrats believe there are chances in Oregon, Tennessee, Iowa and South Dakota. In Illinois the United States senator will have to be elected by a coalition, as the Progressives and three Socialist members of the lower house will hold the balance between the two parties.

Later returns have developed the defeat of three very well known Republican congressmen, Joseph G. Cannon, William B. McKinley and Nicholas Longworth, son-in-law of Colonel Roosevelt, but a Taft supporter.

With fewer than 300 districts to hear from in Illinois, Wilson led by 7,000, and the Democratic leaders anticipate 10,000 on complete returns. Dunne, the successful Democratic candidate for governor, will have 100,000 at least. Of the twenty-seven congressmen from Illinois, eighteen will be Democratic, three Progressive and six Republican. It is likely that the present Illinois legislature will claim the right of electing a successor to Lorimer, and efforts are being made to get all factions to agree on some Republican, preferably Lawrence Y. Sherman, who defeated Shelby M. Culom in the preferential primaries.

In California, with 200 districts to be heard from, Wilson's plurality was 1,000, but it was expected to increase to between 2,000 and 4,000. In Kansas revised returns give the state to Wilson by about 12,000, while Governor Stubbs for the United States senate has been defeated by Thompson Democrat, by the same figures. A further development was that the New Hampshire legislature will be Republican on joint ballot.

The next Delaware legislature will have twenty Democrats and twenty-three Republicans. In Massachusetts the Democrats have added the secretary of state to their winning list, the post being won by Frank J. Donoghue, a young newspaper man. The legislature will be Republican on joint ballot on 54 plurality.

There are indications that Nebraska will send a Republican senator to Washington. Safe returns indicate the success of Norris. The legislature will be Republican on joint ballot, but nothing has been received to change the result of the national election or of the victory of Moorehead, Democrat, for governor.

Ernest Lister, Democrat, is probably elected governor of Washington, but complete count may be necessary to decide.

POLITICAL MEDLEY

The Three Leading Parties All Able to Score in Michigan.

Detroit, Nov. 8.—The unofficial count shows the election of Ferris, Democrat, as governor of Michigan by a plurality of 10,000. Roosevelt carried the state by 23,000. The Republicans have elected eight congressmen, the Democrats two, and the Progressives two. Woman suffrage carried by about 7,000 majority. It is probable that a Progressive will occupy the lieutenant governor's chair. The state officers are still in doubt, but the Democrats will probably be well represented among them. The state legislature will probably have a scant Republican majority on joint ballot, which will return William Alden Smith to the senate.

Uncle Joe Finally Beaten. Danville, Ill., Nov. 8.—Joseph G. Cannon, for nearly forty years Republican congressman from the Eighteenth Illinois congressional district, has been defeated by Frank T. O'Hair, a young attorney of Paris. Cannon was defeated by about 1,000 votes.

A Famous Widow.

One of the most famous widows of antiquity was Agrippina, the widow of Germanicus. During the lifetime of her husband she attended him in all his campaigns and shared his dangers. Suspecting that her husband had been poisoned, she had his presumed murderer assassinated and was herself soon after treated with such indignity by Tiberius that she was driven to despair and starved herself to death.

SUGGESTIVE QUESTIONS.

Nov. 10, 1912.

(Copyright, 1911, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.)

World's Temperance Sunday. Hosea vii.

Golden Text—Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning that they may follow strong drink, that tarry late into the night till wine inflame them! Isa. vi:11.

(1.) Verses 1-2—Why cannot a nation nor an individual be mortally healed as long as wrongdoing is continued? (2.) If a government is corrupt and the teachers of the nation false to their trust what will be the condition of the people?

(3.) Would men in authority act corruptly if they actually realized that God took notice of their every wicked way?

(4.) What effect does continued wrongdoing have upon the judgment of the sinner, upon his own acts?

(5.) Verse 3—How fares the nation when the king, the president, the governor, the judge or others in high authority have been subtly blinded by "graft" or influenced by wine?

(6.) Verse 4—When lust and anger burn in a man until his whole life is "leavened" what is the influence of such a life and what will be the man's future?

(7.) Verse 5—What is the difference in the effect of "wine" upon the "king" and upon the plebeian?

(8.) What is the general effect of drinking wine at banquets and other similar functions?

(9.) At what stage in wine drinking does an ordinarily decent man join "his hand with the scorners"?

(10.) Verse 6—After an all night carousal how does a man feel in the morning?

(11.) When men "lie in wait" to do some devilish thing and drink while they wait what effect does the drink have upon them?

(12.) Verse 7—When men are "hot" with wine is it ever a burning desire to do good? Give your reasons. (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(13.) When we find men "hot" with rebellion against good judges and good government, to which class do they generally belong, total abstainers or drinkers? Why?

(14.) In these days how many good, God fearing men use wine as a beverage?

(15.) Verse 8—When professed Christians consort with the wicked what will be the inevitable result, and why?

(16.) What kind of man is he who compares with "a cake not turned," that is burned on one side and half raw on the other?

(17.) Verses 9-10—What proportion of drinkers are so fuddled that they are unconscious of loss and cannot see danger?

(18.) When men or women are besotted with pride what hope is there for them?

(19.) Verses 11-13—What were the results when God's ancient people relied upon other nations for help when God had promised them all the help they needed?

(20.) Verses 14-16—How is it that when men have brought great suffering upon themselves by sin they still insist upon rebelling against God?

Lesson for Sunday, Nov. 17, 1912. The Great Question. Mark viii:27-ix:1.

Forgery in Ancient Greece.

Dactyl is Greek for finger, and from this the word dactylography, to apply to a knowledge of finger rings, has been accepted, though evidently a misfit. Rings as signets hark back to ancient Egypt, from which country they probably came to Greece. Solon, the Greek lawgiver, who died 558 years before the Christian era, enacted a law that no engraver or cutter of signet rings should keep by him the impression of any ring he had cut. As these rings were used to sign documents of various kinds, this law was intended to prevent fraud and forgery.

Humble Pie.

There is a queer twist of language in the phrase "to eat humble pie." The word "humble" is a corrupted form of the original "numble," which is an edible part of the carcass of a deer and would make very poor pie. The words "humble pie" have the same original meaning as "to eat crow," a phrase common in political life. There is an enforced humility in this process, and the change from "numble" to "humble" introduced a thought which harmonized with the idea sought to be expressed. The last form of the phrase has entirely supplanted the original.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department, The Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.)

LESSON FOR NOVEMBER 10.

WORLD'S TEMPERANCE SUNDAY.

LESSON TEXT—Hosea 7.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Woe unto them that rise up early in the morning, that they may follow strong drink; that tarry late into the night, till wine inflame them."—Isaiah 5:11.

We turn aside today from studying the life of Christ to consider one of the things that caused the downfall of Ephraim, that is the northern kingdom, and also of Israel, i. e., those who composed the southern kingdom. The chief counterfeit of the Holy Spirit employed by Satan is the inspiration and the intoxication produced in the use of liquors, and we do well to pause and consider the works of him whom Jesus came to destroy. (Heb. 2:14).

The lesson naturally divides itself into two divisions, vv. 1-7 and vv. 8-16. This entire section really begins in chapter six verse four and contains the response of Jehovah to the cry of the remnant of Israel and of Ephraim in the last days. In the first half we see the iniquity of Ephraim and Israel "discovered," i. e., revealed, and in the second section there is discovered or revealed to us God's wrath against them for their hypocrisy.

I. God declares that it was his desire to heal them both, (v. 1). It is not God's will that any should perish.

But while Jehovah would have healed them they would not be healed, (cf. Matt. 23:37 and Luke 13:34), and hence it is that his love serves to reveal their wickedness. Dr. Torrey points out eight charges brought against the common people "Ephraim" and the court and city "Samarita," for this evil attacks both alike.

Never Hidden From God.

(1) "Falsehood" (v. 1). Nothing is more common among the evils of intemperance than falsehood; as we have suggested it is the Devil's false imitation of true inspiration. (2) "A thief comes in." Intemperance steals not only a man's money but his reputation, love for his family, in fact any and everything a sober man will hold dear. (3) "They consider not in their hearts." Like Rip Van Winkle, men say "this last doesn't count," forgetting that it does count and that God remember all of their wickedness. A violation of his law will receive punishment in due season. America is paying the price of a manifold increase in taxation, in murder, in imbecility, in divorce and suicide, the overwhelming portion of which can be traced to intemperance. God is remembering all our wickedness and verily a troop of robbers are stripping us (v. 1).

We oftentimes hide our evil deeds from man but never from God, and a man's sins will find him out (Psalm 9:16). These people made the king glad (v. 3), i. e., the king delighted in this wickedness. Let us not forget that righteousness exalteth a nation and sin is a reproach to any people. (4) "They are all adulterers," (v. 4). Of course in this connection we know there was a remnant of true followers, but the prevailing villainess was such as to call forth this terrific indictment. We need to remember that the connection between the liquor traffic and white slavery is so close as to defy separation.

"The Great Destroyer."

A liquor drinker is almost invariably a scoundrel. He scorns the power of liquor over himself, its effect upon the nation. "Sum up the economic loss of efficiency the cost of crime, pauperism, and insanity, and we have an economic burden of more than half of the wealth produced by this nation." (See Congressman H. R. Hobson's, "The Great Destroyer"). (6) "They have made ready their heart like an oven while they lie in wait," (v. 6, 7, referring undoubtedly to the heat of anger and passion as well as of lust. (7) "They have devoured their judges" (v. 7). One has but to review the pages of history to appreciate the overthrow of priest, peasant and potentate alike. (8) "There is none that calleth upon me" (v. 7). The turning aside from God was noted at the outset, here again we see that the neglect and forgetfulness of God is the true source of all of man's sinning.

11. God intended Israel, and intends us, to be separate people. The prophet sets before us the result of this refusal upon Ephraim. A cake not turned is a cake half baked, one half burned. This metaphor has many applications. Our social life, our political life, our spiritual life is too often one that is half turned, one-half burned to a crisp and the other half raw.

Lay emphasis upon the Golden Text and the general facts of the temperance question. Alcohol is injurious to all kinds of life; there is little, if any, necessity for its use in medicine. Usually it is a positive hindrance. The story of "Old Born Drunk" in Bebe's "Twice Born Men," can be told with profit, a man who returned to Jehovah and found in the power of the blood of his son healing for his sickness. Lay strong emphasis upon pledge signing, for prevention is stronger than cure. Also, unlike the old Romans, our belly should not be our God.

CABINET DOPESTERS GIVEN NO COMFORT

President-Elect Sits Down On All Idle Gossip.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 8.—When the president-elect told the newspaper correspondents that he was perfectly capable of selecting his own family of departmental advisers and intended to do so, those who have been making cabinets for President-elect Wilson were jolted.

"Such speculations," he said, referring to the list of cabinet officials that had been prepared in every town where the wisacres could get the ear of a reporter, "are perfectly fruitless. I mean to keep my mind entirely open with regard to appointments of the first consequence."

"It will be perfectly useless to resort to me for corroboration of any report, because I shall have absolutely nothing to announce. No announcement will have the least authority which is not made over my signature. These are matters which must be determined by very deliberate counsel, and not by gossip."

FOR THE LAST TIME

These Pension Agencies Will Now Go Out of Business.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Six of the government's pension agencies, at Indianapolis, Louisville, Knoxville, New York, Philadelphia and Topeka, are paying pensions for the last time. Their discontinuance was directed in the pension appropriation bill of the last congress. The remaining twelve agencies will cease payments by January. Thereafter the pension office in Washington will make all payments. Each of the pension agents will go out of office, together with a large clerical force.

Conservatives disturbed a meeting of Radicals at Murcia, Spain. Revolver shots were fired and a Radical deputy was wounded in the head. The meeting broke up in confusion.

Allan W. Gernert, thirty-five years old, of Bridgeport, Conn., a passenger on the American liner New York, committed suicide at sea by first slashing his throat with a knife and then jumping overboard.

The paper of which Colonel Roosevelt is contributing editor carried an accident insurance policy in the colonel's favor, on which payments of $125 a week will be made while the president is laid up.

The Doctrine of Good Shoes May Be Profitably Preached Only By a Good Shoe Man

Frankly, we'd hate to be in the "near shoe" business! We'd hate to carry lines of shoes that sell only because the price is small. Somehow, we feel that it would be about as creditable to circulate bad money as to sell bad shoes. Perhaps the selling of poor shoes will stop, sometime. It ought to stop.

The Wonder of It.

The Republican party is to be congratulated on the showing that it made in the election of Tuesday. The Republican party had to overcome almost impossible odds, and it battled bravely against them.

The Republican party will rise again. It has been assailed both from within and without before and it has always emerged from the struggle triumphant. In 1892 the same old prediction was made concerning the party but it came back in 1894 from the slough of despondency, and it has been victorious up until this year when it was attacked by an ungrateful man whose political career had been made within the ranks of the Republican party and by the preferment of the party.

It is little wonder that the Republican party was overcome. It is to be wondered that it even survives. The Republican party had to combat the marvelous personality of Theodore Roosevelt who still has the power to lead men in spite of the revelations that have been made concerning his machinations of men of affluence and wealth.

This year the Republican party had to face a triumphant Democracy. The Democratic party was never any more certain of victory than it was with the Republican party torn by dissension, created largely by Theodore Roosevelt. That was one of the elements that forecast the defeat of the party of Lincoln and McKinley.

The other element was Theodore Roosevelt who commanded the support of five millionaires who were willing to go to any extent and spend any amount of money to defeat William Howard Taft because of his administration acts against the interests in which they were interested.

Just as much as Theodore Roosevelt's party had a superabundance of funds, that much less did the Republican party lack funds with which to carry on the political battle. Here in Indiana the State committee was hampered and restrained because of the lack of money. Many campaign orators in this state paid their own expenses while out on stumping expeditions. The State committee did not have funds enough to put out literature. The campaign was discouraging from the very outset.

While on the other hand Theodore Roosevelt had an unlimited stream of money flowing into his campaign. The senate committee's investigation brought to light the fact that Bill Flinn, the Pittsburg boss; Dan R. Hanna, steel trust stock owner who was fined $60,000 by President Taft for rebating; Frank A. Munsey, owner of many publications who was incensed because of the order of Taft's postmaster general making it necessary for him to pay more to have his magazines hauled; George W. Perkins, who organized the harvesters trust against which a suit to dissolve was brought by the Taft-administration; Medil McCormick, owner of steel trust stock, all contributed more than $700,000 to Roosevelt's campaign.

Their fight on Taft was inspired by his acts against them for the benefit of the people and in enforcing the law. They chose Theodore Roosevelt to beat him and Roosevelt succeeded, even though he stirred the people of the United States by arousing their envy and their passions. He was ably assisted by our own Albert J. Beveridge.

But the Republican party is greater than Theodore Roosevelt. It was greater than Abraham Lincoln, as he said, and none will dare compare Roosevelt with Lincoln as a man, even though Roosevelt himself has had the temerity to do so.

The next four years will show that the Republican party will survive. There are too many really great men left in the Republican party for its tank and file to despair. The loss of Theodore Roosevelt, since he has shown his true character, will do the Republican party more good than harm.

Let the country have a sober second thought.

Enormity of the Crime.

People generally have never seemed to realize the enormity of the ingratitude of Theodore Roosevelt. The Republican party was good enough for him for thirty years. He left it at a time when the party is not only less corrupt, when it is more responsive to public opinion, than at any other period during these three decades.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1882 when he wanted to go to the assembly, although at the election that fall the people of New York repudiated it by a majority of 200,000.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1884 when the tens of thousands of honest, independent Republicans refused to support a tainted candidate like James G. Blaine. Mr. Roosevelt was not among them.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1886 when he accepted a nomination for mayor of New York from the bosses and corrupt corporations to defeat Henry George.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1889 when he wanted to be a civil service commissioner, although the chairman of its national committee was Matthew Stanley Quay.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1897 when he wanted to be assistant secretary of the navy, and obtained that office by the favor of Hanna, Platt and Quay.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1898 when he wanted to be Governor of New York and was willing to help

Sam Sanborn Says:

That it will not take the recall for the Republicans to get back in four years.

save Platt's corrupt machine in return for the nomination.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1900, when Platt and Quay nominated him for Vice-President.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1904 when the leaders interposed no objection to his nominating himself for President.

The Republican party was good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1908 when it meekly permitted him to foist William Howard Taft upon the country as a proxy.

The Republican party would have been good enough for Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 if it had nominated him for a third term, and Mr. Roosevelt would have welcomed the support of every man and every interest which supported Mr. Taft.

A new party was necessary not because the Republican party is hopelessly corrupt or hopelessly reactionary but because the Republican party refused to nominate ME. That is the crime of crimes. Because of that iniquity the Republican party must be destroyed and the pity of it is Roosevelt believes he has done it.

A defeated candidate for president may feel a certain degree of sorrow, but it never approaches the anguish and bitter humiliation experienced by a defeated candidate for member of the Legislature.

An unusual number of party workers and stump speakers lose their votes this year through a failure to register. Comments on the "crisis," the "emergency" and "Armageddon" are all superfluous.

Editoriales.

Finly gray was sick in bed when he was elected. What would his plurality have been if he had been well?

"None of these matters (meaning who is to get the plums) have been seriously considered by the party workers," says the official Democratic county organ, "and will probably not be known until the appointments are made." We would like to put that down as the best joke since the campaign closed.

They are busy tongues that engage in idle gossip, no matter how unreasonable it may seem.

In nine weeks, Gov. Johnson, the Bull Moose candidate for vice president, made five hundred speeches, we read in the Big Prints. This number, of course, does not include the one he did not make in Indiana.

"The G. O. P. was Bull Moosed," says the Indianapolis Sun. This is a highbrow way of saying the G. O. P. was stabbed in the back.

Uncle Sam has placed a ban on New England Christmas trees for fear a parasite with which they are infected will be transferred to other parts of the country. Will Santa Clause stand for this?

The editor of the Morristown Sun has decided "Wilson got his election honestly," we'll call it square at that and let the count of electoral votes go on uninterrupted.

Few if any novelists have ever presented a heroine with gold teeth, especially in front. Perhaps the synthetic porcelain talked about by dentists will be more precarious than gold to poets and writers of fiction.

The Richmond newspapers marvel at the wonderful showing of the Socialists in Wayne county. Isn't it strange?

Comments on Election

(Seymour Republican.)

The Republicans accept the verdict and await the return swing of the pendulum.

(Newcastle Courier.)

The Republican party has gone down in defeat, horse, foot and dragon. Equipment, arms and baggage have been captured by the enemy. All, save honor, seems to be gone. Nevertheless and notwithstanding, the party has not surrendered; it will bide its time.

In Bartholomew county, while the democrats elect every candidate they have no just cause for exultation. Their vote for president and on down through the other offices is less than it was two years ago or four years ago. They won simply because they stayed together while two parties and two sets of candidates were made out of the original Republican party. The result was inevitable. You can't take a party with say 3,000 votes in a given district and split it into two parts more or less of equal proportions and expect to win with either faction of it against a third party that retains approximately its original strength of say 3,000 votes.

It is gratifying to note that Colonel Roosevelt says that he accepts the result with the "utmost good humor." There were some who appeared to fear another "bolt" with the Colonel setting up a "little white house" of his own on Sagamore Hill.

Colonel Roosevelt's first declaration upon the receipt of the election returns was a joyous exhortation to the effect that he had annihilated the Republican party—the party that had kept him almost continuously in office for twenty-five years and which denied him further consideration only when he demanded that which Washington declined and which Grant could not get. However, there are two views as to the "annihilation of the Republican party," and Colonel Roosevelt will ascertain this fact to his sorrow in his future activity in the field of politics. The Republican party stands defeated and humiliated today, it is true, but it is still greater by far than the ambitions of any one man or any set of self-seekers.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

Responsibility for the defeat of the Republican party Tuesday rests primarily and principally upon Theodore Roosevelt. When it refused to nominate him for a third term, he turned upon it in a perfidious and revengeful spirit, resolved to prevent its success as a penalty for not making him its candidate. In all the history of American politics, there is no parallel for this case of amazing egotism and flagrant ingratitude, and certainly no true Republican can ever forget or condone it.

The next Indiana legislature is pledged to practically nothing, due to the extremely weak platform adopted in the last Democratic state convention. That platform was apparently constructed by reactionary gentlemen who hold that party pledges are of no practical use. It was evidently written in the belief that a platform is merely a form and not a contract. While election results may lead members of the resolutions committee in that convention to conclude that they were right in their assumption the situation leaves the people puzzled and doubting.

The Republican party will live. It has been defeated, defeated overwhelmingly, as it was 1892, but it will rise again, as it did two years after the disaster of twenty years ago.

The Republican party has been defeated this year, not on its record—for the country stands today under the administration of President Taft, at the very high tide of prestige and prosperity, but because of the treachery of leaders whose prominence and influence in public life was made possible by the party they have sought in this campaign to destroy.

In this wicked assault upon the party to which these men owe everything, they have ransacked every platform framed during the past third of a century, and have pieced together a sail which they hoped to be big enough and broad enough to catch the breeze of popular favor and pull them to power. It has landed them on the docks and shoals, and their frail, piratical craft will be pounded to pieces.

Despite the infinite yawp of this campaign about the new party having incorporated into its creed the principle of social justice—a principle which no political party can seize or copyright, because belief in it is universal with the majority in all parties—the fact stands out that there is no basic principle lying at the foundation of the new so-called party, which, after all is a faction and not a party—that gives it the promise of permanency. The socialist party is a much more virile and intelligent propagandist of everything worth while that it has preached in this campaign.

The Republican party stands not only for great economic principles which have given this nation a prosperity unequaled in the history of this or any other nation, but it stands alone among all the parties in defense of the American form of government as it was conceived by the farmers of the constitution, and in advocacy of representative government. This alone guarantees the permanency of the Republican party.

The people of this country have voted for a change. If that change shall prove to be unsatisfactory, the conditions existing under the new administration will be compared with those prevailing during the present administration—the people of this country will turn not to any new experiment, but to the party which has given to the nation so many years of progress and prosperity. Much of the attention attracted by the new party movement has been due to the personality of its leadership—especially of Colonel Roosevelt. Colonel Roosevelt never has manifested great interest in any movement which did not promise power to him. He treated even the progressive cause with contempt until the time came for seizing upon it as an excuse for his candidacy for a third term. Consequently the new movement will lack hereafter the inspiration of his active leadership, other than in an advisory way. He will lead no more forlorn hopes. Moreover, thousands upon thousands of deluded men who imagined that the new party would sweep the country have been undeceived—they realize that they have been persistently bunked by such leaders as Joseph Dixon, who continued to predict a Bull Moose landslide until the last moment. This "tremendous groundswell" landed only a dozen representatives of the party in congress. The greenbackers and populists had more.

The Republican party will live. The Bull Moose faction will die. It was projected by disappointed, ambitious, vengeful leaders for the purpose of punishing the Republican party because of its failure to continue them in office and in power. The Republican party has been punished, but it takes the punishment cheerfully, proud of its record in having relegated these former leaders to private life. There isn't a Republican who does not rejoice that Woodrow Wilson, and not Theodore Roosevelt, is to be the next president of the United States. The people of this country can stand whatever industrial disturbance may come from a change in the tariff system, but they could never recover from the effect of an overthrow of the third-term tradition, the overthrow of representative government and the return to power of the would be dictator whose trustbucked campaign represented a privateering expedition of industrial pirates whose criminal imposition upon the American people had been interrupted by a president who had the old-fashioned idea that his oath of office meant what it said.

High Standards

One reason why this bank has become a large factor in the important financial and commercial affairs of Rushville is that it has always maintained a high standard of ideals.

It has confined its business to strictly legitimate channels, and has always sought stability before profit.

It has won the confidence of banks and business men.

It welcomes accounts with business men and individuals who recognize the value of high standards in business.

CLERKS ENTITLED TO FEE

Attorney General Holds They May Collect For Doctor's License.

Attorney-General Homan has given an opinion to Dr. W. T. Gott, secretary of the state board of medical registration and examination, in which he holds that county clerks are entitled to collect only 50 cents in fees for the issuance of a county license to a physician. Under the clerk's fee and salary law of 1909 the charge allowed was $1.50, but the "sister act" to the clerk's fee and salary law, known as the sheriff's act, has been declared void and the state official held therefore, that the clerk's act is void, though it never has been passed on by courts.

G. R. ECKERT NAMED MUSIC SUPERVISOR

Indianapolis Musician Who is Well Known Here Goes to Kokomo

MRS. ECKERT HAS SUNG HERE

Mr. and Mrs. George Raymond Eckert, of Indianapolis, both well known in this city, will remove to Kokomo next week. Mr. Eckert having been appointed supervisor of music in the public schools of Kokomo. The announcement of the appointment has not been made public, although Mr. Eckert began work in Kokomo October 28. Mr. Eckert has been a teacher of the piano in Indianapolis for sixteen years. He studied under the late Clarence Forsythe and Walter Strankle in the old Metropolitan School of Music.

Mrs. Eckert has sung for many years in church choirs, among them being the Tabernacle Presbyterian church, the Roberts Park M. E. church and the First Presbyterian church of Indianapolis. She resigned her position with the last named church choir to devote herself to concert singing.

FINE BUILDING HAS NEW MEANING NOW

Covetous Longing, in Eyes of Connersville Democrats When They Glance at Postoffice.

SOME PATRIOTS MENTIONED

The elegant new government building, at Eight and Central, means more to certain local Democrats since Tuesday night than it ever did before, says the Connersville News. There is a covetous longing now in the eyes of some as they glance about the structure as if they would like to tarry there through business hours for a third term of years always considering, of course, the snug salary that goes with the job.

A number of patriots have been mentioned as suitable timber for the next postmaster under Wilson and as their names are being bandied around no harm will come of mentioning them. Heading the list, of course, is Billy Merrell, claimed by some as the "brains of the party" locally. Billy is rated a bit of a "boss," however, by some of his members but he can point to what happened Tuesday as showing that everything worked out fine. But for real "get there" work Simon Doenges is regarded by many Democrats as the boy deserving the prize. These two are the leaders and their claims size up so well that a clash might come if both pressed their claims too hard so some are considering a bunch of dark horses, one of whom might be trotted in if necessary in the interest of peace and harmony.

Bull Moosers Do no Damage in Democratic Franklin.

The usual Democratic majority in Franklin county was undisturbed by the political upheaval elsewhere. At the Progressive and Republican votes together did not come within several hundred of equalling the Democratic vote the "split" was but an incident there. Ralston had the highest vote 2,334, leading Wilson by 28. Gray had but one less than Wilson. Taft got 929 votes and Durbin 866 Roosevelt's vote was 630 and Beveridge's, 655. Risk got 1005 and Jensen 481, running 149 behind Roosevelt. Foster got 1143 votes. Frank S. Masters, Republican, for sheriff was at the top of the Republican side, having 1238 votes. But he was still short 800.

AMUSEMENTS

The Princess will show a Lubin drama for the first picture tonight. It is entitled "For the Love of a Girl" and is said to tell a beautiful story. "The Hermit" is the title of the other picture, an Essanay comedy-drama.

Campbell Brothers, acrobats and contortionists, will again feature the bill at the Palace tonight. Campbell Brothers pleased large audiences last night with their act, which is high class in every way. Tonight the acrobats will feature the dislocation of the shoulder. The usual two pictures will be shown. The first is an Eclair comedy, "Oh! You Rag Time." The other is a Rex drama, "The Price of Extravagance."

Theater goes in and about Indianapolis will be delighted at the announcement that Miss Christie MacDonald, in her delightful operetta, "The Spring Maid," is to play another engagement at English's opera house, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 11, 12 and 13, with a matinee Wednesday. Miss MacDonald and her company were greeted with crowded houses when they played there last season, and her return will enable many who were unable to get seats last year to avail themselves of this opportunity to see an attraction which has equaled in popularity the famous "Merry Widow." Everyone, of course, is familiar with "Day Dreams," sung by Miss MacDonald, and the duet, "Two Little Love Bees" which she sings with her leading man. There is not only a lot of beautiful music in "The Spring Maid," but a great deal of comedy, a large and attractive chorus and an augmented orchestra of twenty-five pieces which adds to the enjoyment of the performance.

This Is the Evidence Brought Out in Dynamite Trial.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—In the dynamiting cases Superintendent Trower of the Pittsburgh Construction company was a witness and gave accounts of depredations against his company. Prior to the time the construction company began to run an "open shop," Trower testified, there were no explosions, but in 1906, he said, when the company was running an "open shop," there were a number. In Cleveland, at the B. & O. viaduct, oil was poured on 5,000 or 6,000 feet of rope belonging to the company, and this was set on fire. About the same time a derick car being used at another job was dynamited. Trower also testified regarding three explosions directed against the Cincinnati Southern viaduct at Cincinnati, in 1909. Ed Clark, who has pleaded guilty, was about this work frequently, said Trower, seeking to get the company to employ union men only. Witness said: "I asked Clark if that would stop the dynamiting. He hesitated for a while and then said he could not say."

Witness gave a list of depredations against his company, which included an explosion at Newark, N. J., and one in New York city, in addition to those in Cleveland and Cincinnati.

May 14 Charles Wachtmeister wrote to McNamara, giving a list of "unfair work" in Detroit investigated by him. He said: "McClintick and Marshall have the viaduct on new depot, but as much as I can find out they have not got the depot part."

May 2 Ryan wrote to McNamara that he had looked over the Pennsylvania Steel company's job at the extreme west end of the Broadway subway in New York, and that the erection of steel was just starting. This work was dynamited May 24, 1910. In this letter Ryan said Hockin might run out to Kansas City and see what could be done there through a committee. "I am skeptical about its effectiveness," wrote Ryan.

New York, Nov. 8.—The four gunmen accused of directly murdering Rosenthal were placed on trial before Justice Goff today. They were arraigned in the following order: Frank Muller (Whitey Lewis), Frank Cirofici (Dago Frank), Louis Rosenberg (Lefty Louie), and Harry Horowitz (Gyp the Blood).

District Attorney Whitman will use many of the witnesses who appeared at Becker's trial and probably all the informers will be called to testify. The gunmen will probably take the stand. That any of them will turn "informer" the district attorney regards as unlikely. If they go to the electric chair he thinks they will take whatever secrets they have with them.

TURKISH RULE IN EUROPE IS OVER
Nothing Now Can Stay the Victorious Bulgars.
RUSHING ON TO THE CAPITAL

With the Fall of the Last Fort Lying Between the Triumphant Army of King Ferdinand and Constantinople, the Remnant of the Turkish Army in Full Flight, Salonika Taken and Scutari Falling, the End Is in Sight.

Constantinople, Nov. 8.—The war will be fought to a finish. After a conference of the commanders and Marshal Fuad Pasha, the latter returned to Constantinople and submitted his own and the conference view of the situation. He said it was quite unnecessary to despair, and urged the government to resist to the last. Nazim Pasha and the crown prince telegraphed to the same effect. The government, whether it was coerced or persuaded, yielded, and at a meeting of the ambassadors it was announced that the Turkish government no longer desired the offices of the powers.

London, Nov. 8.—The victorious Bulgarians made one swift, vicious assault on the fortifications of Thessalonika and won them. The disheartened Turks are now scattered over the twenty-five mile district between these captured lines of defense and Constantinople, and the Bulgarians are pursuing them, capturing some and killing others. There is now nothing save these disorganized fleeing bands of Turks to stop the Bulgarians in their conquering march toward the capital of their enemies.

Flushed with the increasing total of victories, the Bulgarian troops, under the direction of King Ferdinand, decided that it would not be necessary to await the arrival of the reinforcements which have already started from Sofia. The grating hatred which the Bulgars feel toward the Turks fed fire to the zeal of the soldiers, and after testing the mettle of the defensive army by pressing them hard on Tuesday, Wednesday and yesterday, King Ferdinand decided on one assault. The Turks had been yielding to his varied attacks during these days, and yesterday afternoon he piled all his forces on top of the Turks in a sweeping assault.

The Turks resisted as best they could, but the soldiers are weak from lack of food, disheartened by defeat, and have endured terrific physical hardships during the few weeks of the war, and at last were pushed from their position. The retreat of the Turks began in confusion, which increased as the Bulgarians pressed home their attacks, and at last the Turks broke into a sprint for their capital, throwing away their packs and arms to increase their speed.

The effect on the ports is that it is hastening its efforts for peace. The cabinet wants it on any terms, provided it is granted quickly. To this end the cabinet decided to give free rein to the powers in arranging for a cessation of hostilities.

The loss of the Thessalonika lines of defense became known in Constantinople just after the war department got news of the surrender of Salonika and news of other Turkish losses throughout European Turkey. Salonika had been making a gallant defense, but the Greeks had been attacking it in so wholesale a manner that it has been known for several days that the Turkish garrison could not withstand it. The Turkish commander would not trust his men to surrender, and his army simply abandoned the town, burning down several bridges to prevent pursuit.

The situation for the Turks defending Scutari against the Montenegrins makes it appear impossible that there is much hope for them.

The situation in Constantinople is growing in desperation every day. Every Christian who can do so is leaving the capital. There are 600,000 Christians in the town normally. Those who know the Turks and the conditions are sure that a general massacre will start, and that thousands of Christians must lose their lives.

One of the Daily Mail's war correspondents has just reached Bucharest from Sofia and telegraphs as follows: "I have grounds for believing that Adrianople has fallen, but the Bulgarians are concealing the fact lest the powers, realizing that a decisive point has been reached in the war, should intervene before the capture of Constantinople. Extraordinary endeavors have been made to prevent the news from getting out. Nothing has been issued officially at Sofia. I understand that the Adrianople garrison, hopelessly encircled by steel and having failed in all the attempted sorties, offered to surrender on condition that the garrison be allowed to march out with the honors of war. This was refused and the bombardment continued. The entire garrison then surrendered unconditionally."

Stepped in Front of Train.

FEDERAL GRAND JURY INDICTS "BIG SMOKE"
Jack Johnson Charged With Being White Slaver.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—On a charge of violating the Mann white slave act, the federal grand jury has indicted Pullitzer Jack Johnson. The indictment charges Johnson with bringing a girl named Bell Schrieber from Pittsburg to Chicago for unlawful purposes.

Lucille Cameron and several of Johnson's employees were witnesses before the grand jury. It is now probable that the Cameron girl, who has been held as a witness in default of $25,000 bonds, will be released, and that she will return to her home in Minneapolis with her mother, with whom she has become reconciled.

Johnson was subsequently released on $30,000 bail.

ANOTHER CHANCE
Supreme Court Reverses Lower Court in the Fritz Case.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—John Fritz, who killed his guard in the Jeffersonville reformatory Nov. 21, 1911, is to have a new trial. The supreme court has reversed the Clark circuit court for giving an instruction regarding the weight of evidence which would have allowed the jury to convict Fritz if the jury thought such evidence showed Fritz was sane when he committed the crime, instead of instructing it should show beyond a reasonable doubt that he was sane.

The lower court is reversed with an order for a new trial and Fritz is ordered back from Michigan City to Jeffersonville reformatory to be again tried for murder.

Death Closes the Incident.
Seymour, Ind., Nov. 8.—Hugh A. Burrell, against whom several charges of embezzlement and forgery were pending in the Jackson circuit court, as a result of failure of the People's State bank at Brownstown, of which he was president, is dead after a long illness of Bright's disease. The cases against him were postponed from time to time because of his physical condition.

Serious Fire at Hebron.
Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 8.—The town of Hebron was saved from destruction by fire by the aid of a bucket brigade of 200 persons. The buildings of the Masonic society, J. B. Dalley, Slevor's estate, G. A. R. society and Smith Brothers, occupied by a dozen business firms and secret societies, were destroyed.

INDIANA VOTE ABOUT ALL IN
Unofficial Returns Make Ralston's Plurality 118,000.
BEVERIDGE AHEAD OF DURBIN

The Democrats, Besides Electing Their Entire State Ticket, Elect All Their Thirteen Candidates For Congress, Ninety-Two of the Hundred Members of the House, and All the Twenty-Five Senators Elected.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—Including official and unofficial returns, the latest figures on the state ticket in Indiana give Ralston 280,193, Durbin 144,171, and Beveridge 163,046. Ralston's plurality over Beveridge is 117,957; over Durbin 135,102. Beveridge's plurality over Durbin is 18,875.

The latest compilation of the vote of the state for president gives Woodrow Wilson 279,857; President Taft, 151,157; Roosevelt, 169,903, and Debs, 21,125. This gives Wilson an estimated plurality of 118,984 over Roosevelt and over Taft 128,730. Roosevelt's plurality over Taft, 9,746. The lowering of the Wilson vote from the vote given earlier is due to returns from the northern tier of Indiana counties, which were late in reaching Indianapolis.

One of the surprises of the election was the vote polled for Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist candidate for president, in Madison county. Debs received 146 more votes than President Taft, according to the unofficial returns. The vote for president was: Wilson, 6,586; Taft, 1,771; Roosevelt, 4,751; Debs, 1,917. Governor—Ralston, 6,376; Durbin, 1,697; Beveridge, 4,800.

Reports on all except two of the one hundred members of the lower house of the legislature show that the Democrats elected ninety-two members, the Republicans five and the Progressives one from Wayne county.

The Democrats elected senators in all the twenty-five districts in which elections were held. Of the twenty-five holdover senators fifteen are Democrats.

The representatives in the Indiana legislature elected by Republicans are Stephen Daugherty, in Benton and Warren counties; E. G. Gilmore, in Knox; William Newton, in Lake; W. B. Van Horn, in Lake and Newton, and A. J. Smutzer, in Laporte and Porter. The Progressives elected one representative, John W. Jenkins, from Wayne county. The Democrats elected their candidates for congress in all the thirteen districts. The Indiana delegation in the next congress will be as follows:

- First District—Charles F. Lieb.
- Second—William A. Cullop.
- Third—William E. Cox.
- Fourth—Lincoln Dixon.
- Fifth—Ralph W. Moss.
- Sixth—Finley H. Gray.
- Seventh—Charles A. Korhly.
- Eighth—John A. M. Adair.
- Ninth—Martin A. Morrison.
- Tenth—John Peterson.
- Eleventh—George W. Rauch.
- Twelfth—Cyrus Cline.
- Thirteenth—Henry A. Barnhart.

According to the latest compilations of the vote for Indiana, Beveridge has carried five counties and Durbin three. The counties credited to Beveridge are: Elkhart, Lagrange, Lake, Randolph and Wayne. Durbin carried Porter, Steuben and Warren.

The same returns also indicate that Roosevelt carried five counties and Taft two. The Roosevelt counties are: Elkhart, Lagrange, Lake, Randolph and Wayne, while those credited to Taft are Porter and Warren.

This indication is given from a complete canvass, of which about 50 per cent is officially announced.

IDENTIFIED HIM
Victim of Negro Gunman Sure of Man Who Attacked Her.

Indianapolis, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Clara Baxter, who was assaulted and robbed while asleep in a tent on the bank of Fall creek during the state fair, has positively identified Frank Willie Smith, the negro gunman, charged with the murder of Philip Lepper and Frank Foxall, Oct. 2, as her assailant. Mrs. Baxter and her husband, Walter Baxter, are performers and were with a midway attraction at the state fair. Because of the heat at night they camped in a tent near their sleeping car. On the morning of Tuesday of fair week they were found bleeding and unconscious in their tent and $500 worth of diamonds and $45 in money were missing.

Mysterious Murder of Physician.
Fortville, Ind., Nov. 8.—Dr. A. A. Stuart, sixty-two years old, was shot to death in the dooryard of his home at 8:30 o'clock last night. The only positive clue to the murder is a soft black hat found near the body of the victim. Guy Stuart, thirty years old, a son, is under arrest, but protests his innocence. The only other theory of the murder is that it was committed by a robber who had entered the home after Dr. Stuart had retired.

Many Local Alumni And Former Students of Indiana University Plan to See Game.

WITH IOWA IN INDIANAPOLIS

Clash of Two Big Eight Football Teams Will Attract a Large Crowd.

Many Alumni and former students of Indiana university here are planning to go to Indianapolis tomorrow to see the State school foot ball team in action for the first time this season. Indiana will meet the Iowa university eleven at Washington park in Indianapolis tomorrow afternoon at two-thirty o'clock.

While the greatest interest in the foot-ball festivities centers in the Indiana-Iowa clash, the curtain raiser between teams representing the Brownsburg and Sheridan high schools is expected to draw a large crowd of rooters. These two elevens represent the class of the high school teams of the State, and are said to be evenly matched. Both will be accompanied to Indianapolis by large rooting delegations.

Especial interest is being aroused in Saturday's game by supporters of the Brownsburg team which has not lost a contest this year. Two ear loads of rooters will come from Brownsburg alone. Play in the curtain raiser will be called at 1 o'clock.

Coach Hawley and his squad of twenty Iowans reached Indianapolis from Iowa City at 2:40 this afternoon, in time for a light limbering up practice. The Hawk-eyes established headquarters at the English hotel. Coach Sheldon will not take the crimson squad to Indianapolis until Saturday morning, when the team will be accompanied by Indiana rooters in special trains. The early calls for tickets indicate a big sale.

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM PLAYS FRANKLIN

Locals Have Small Hope of Victory But Will Work For Low Score.

PRESENTS FAST LINE UP

The Rushville high school football team left this morning for Franklin where they play the fast high school team of that place this afternoon. The local team has little hope of victory over the fast team there but believe they can hold Franklin to a low score.

GWYNNEVILLE TO CELEBRATE.

The Democratic leaders of the Gwynneville community have made arrangements for a big rally at the place Friday night, to celebrate the great victory of the Democratic party throughout the United States. Many people are expected to attend from a distance.

SCRAP DID IT.

Connersville News: But really when you look at the matter as it really was, the Democrats didn't elect themselves into power. The real way it happened was that former Republicans got into a "scrap" among themselves and left the door open. The Democrats slipped in.

APPEALS FOR BROADER VIEW

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger of This City Makes Speech at Indiana Osteopathic Association Meeting.

TALKS ABOUT SCHOOL LAW

Dr. J. B. Kinsinger, of Rushville, says the Indianapolis News in speaking of the Indiana Osteopathic Association, made a plea for a broader interpretation of the Indiana laws in regard to medical examination of school children, in order to give the osteopaths of the state an opportunity to participate in the work of "the conservation of the health and lives of the human family."

"The approved methods of the medical profession," he said, "is to treat symptoms as they arise, while the method of the osteopaths is to correct the cause that produces the symptoms." While the present school inspection law is a step in the right direction, he said, he thought it was too narrow when it provides that no physician shall be appointed for public school inspection unless he is a graduate of a medical college and holds a license to practice medicine in the state. This provision, he said, excludes osteopathic physicians from becoming examiners in any public school in the state. Dr. Kinsinger highly commended the sanitary school house law.

LOCALS PLAY NEWCASTLE

Independents Stack up Against Strong Team Sunday Afternoon.

The Rushville Independents will play the first Newcastle team here Sunday afternoon instead of the Connersville team as was first announced. The Connersville team was unable to come and as the Newcastle aggregation is the strongest of the two a hard fought game is expected. The locals will be forced to extend themselves as the Newcastle team will put up a stiff game. It will be the second contest of the season for the locals and they hope to repeat the trick of last Sunday when they defeated Shelbyville. The game will be called at 2 o'clock.

GAME AT KNIGHTSTOWN.

Ed Jameson, as manager of the Connersville Independents, has scheduled a foot ball game at Knightstown Sunday. The Connersville team is a strong aggregation and Mr. Jamison has confident hopes of a victory.

POSTOFFICE GETS ORDER.

Postmaster Frazee received notice from Acting Postmaster General Grandfield, ordering him to keep the flag at the postoffice at half mast for thirty days on account of the death of Vice President Sherman.
